Trade Expansion Port Development, MacLean's Policy

Survivors Say Captain of Vestris Waited Too Long Before He Called Ships

Liberal Candidate In Federal By-election Here Issues Statement Outlining His Objectives for Benefiting Victoria if Elected as This City's Representative at Ottawa.

Still further extension of Canada's inter-empire and foreign trade, which since the war has grown at an enormous rate, and development of the port of Victoria to participate fully in such trade development, are two of the chief objects Hon. J. B. MacLean, Liberal Government supporter at Ottawa in the by-election here on Dec. 6, according to a statement outlining his policies issued by him to-day.

In this statement as Liberal candidate, seeking election as a supporter of the Government at Ottawa.

"As the candidate of the present Federal Government in the approaching by-election, I am briefly outlining the grounds upon which I ask my fellow citizens for their support of my candidature."

WORLD POLICY

"(1) In world policy, the present Government at Ottawa stands unconditionally for Empire unity and for the fullest possible development of commercial relations with Great Britain and our sister overseas Dominions.

"The Prime Minister of Canada has taken part in the recent Imperial conference and in the proceedings of the League of Nations, and in powerful addresses has made it clear to the United Kingdom and to all member nations of the League that Canada stands united in loyalty to His Majesty the King and in support of the League of Nations and its world court for peace. With this policy I am in complete and whole-hearted accord."

DOMESTIC POLICY

"(2) Canada's greatest need is the development of her natural resources and the encouragement of her industries through increasing her volume of foreign trade. To accomplish these things, extension of our transportation systems and improvement and enlargement of our terminal facilities are essential. I will support energetically the policy consistently followed by the Government of giving active support to the development of projects of our railways so that the efforts of both our great transportation systems may result in the greatest possible development of our Dominion.

"Active support of aviation development is also part of the Government policy and has my personal interest."

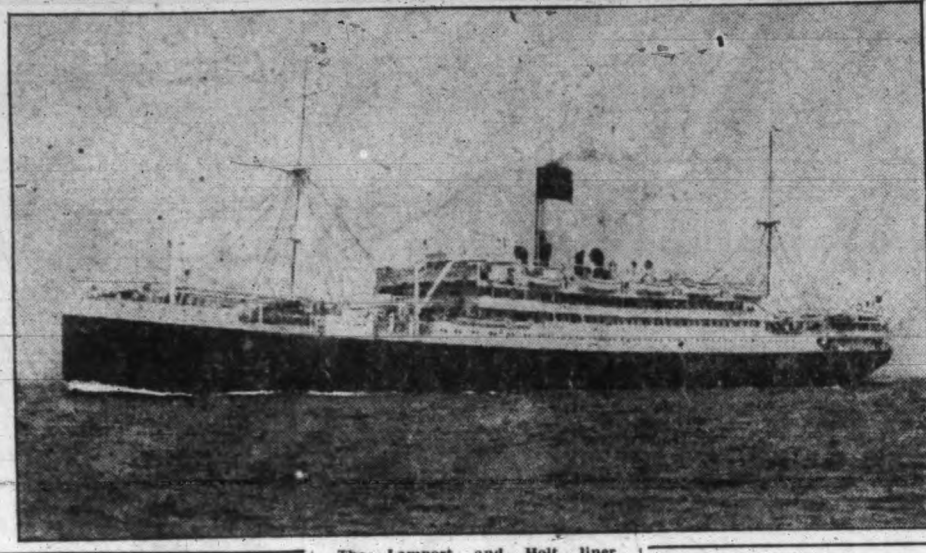

FOREIGN TRADE

"(3) Extension of the foreign trade of the country is a natural sequence of the excess of our production over our domestic requirements. With the object of promoting inter-empire trade, the present Federal Government has followed a policy of arranging trade treaties and of establishing lines of communication between Canada and the other British Dominions. In this connection it should be remembered that the treaty with Australia has been of great benefit to this province. The lumber industry is at (Concluded on page 17).

Australian Wheat Crop Estimated

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 14 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The Australian Government's statistical department announced to-day the estimate of the Australian wheat crop of 1928 was 154,000,000 bushels, an increase of 40,000,000 bushels in two years.

Carried 108 to Deaths; Ss. Vestris

The Lampert and Holt liner Vestris, which sank 300 miles east of Virginia Monday, was built for the South American trade in 1912 at Belfast. She was the biggest ship ever to ply in service between New York and South American ports, 495 feet long, 17,000 gross tons, with a depth of twenty-eight feet and a beam of sixty. She had special equipment for carrying Argentine meat, such a refrigerating system as had seldom been seen before, and for sixteen years she stayed in service with but one small fire to mar her record and that was extinguished in a heavy reverse for the Coast Guard. The vessel was bound for New York from South American ports with 358 persons aboard.

Government Party In New Zealand Suffers Reverses In Election

Wellington, N.Z., Nov. 15 (Vancouver Province Cable).—The general election on Wednesday resulted in a heavy reverse for the Government. The New United Party under the leadership of Sir Joseph Ward made its debut by gaining three seats from the Government in the House of Representatives.

The final standing, by parties, is: Government 28; United Party, 26; Labor, 20; Independents, 4.

Most of the new Independent members are opposed to the Government. The Premier's party failed to gain a single seat. It held fifty-three of the eighty seats in the last Parliament.

TO CONSIDER POSITION

Premier Coates says he will consider the position when the final figures are available.

The new United Party combines Liberals, Nationalists and others opposed to the Reform and Labor parties. Its members, Hon. A. D. McLeod, Minister of Lands; Hon. J. C. Hawken, Minister of Agriculture; and Hon. J. C. Rolleston, Minister of Justice.

SIR J. WARD ELECTED

Sir Joseph Ward, former Prime Minister, a member of Parliament for forty years, was elected to the House of Representatives, won his old seat at Invercargill with a majority of more than 3,000.

Thomas Seddon, Ward's party man, son of the late Premier Seddon, lost his seat to a Laborite.

J. N. Massey, son of the late Premier Massey, was elected to his father's old seat at Franklin.

Many of the old Massey stalwarts fell by the wayside.

Liquor licensing results show an overwhelming wet majority.

DEBATE MARKS END OF PACT FOR NAVIES

London Papers Comment on Discussion in Commons on French Proposals

London, Nov. 14 (Canadian Press Cable).—The crowded House was in no skirling party mood. It seemed seized with the world importance of seeking and ensuring peace.

"It is the description given by the London Daily Telegraph to-day of the general scene in the House of Commons last night when the Liberal amendment opposing the French proposal for the Anglo-French naval compromise was defeated by a majority of 163, the vote being exactly two to one against the amendment."

The London Morning Post said to-day:

"The public funeral of the pact took place in the House of Commons last night. The debate in the House of Commons was only a belated memorial service."

The Manchester Guardian comments that Mr. Lloyd George for his courage in telling the House that if the letter of the pact was dead and buried it was worth while killing its spirit as well.

ARMY RESERVES

The Guardian expresses a desire to know if the Government will still support the French contention that conscription reserves must be excluded from limitation of land armaments.

"The Prime Minister gave no hint that he would insist on their inclusion," the newspaper says. "The general attitude seems to be that provided we agree with the French it does not matter greatly whether the agreement contributes to a real solution of the disarmament problem or not. That we should be compelled to disagree with the French is unfortunate, but if the disagreement is on matters of vital principle it is best that we should stick to our opinions with as much resolution as courtesy permits."

The London Daily Chronicle explains that Premier Baldwin failed to answer the Liberal leader's question whether the policy embodied in the pact was buried along with the agreement.

Boy Blames Fighting Spirit of Chinaman For Sidney Fracas

Fighting instincts of a sixty-year-old Chinaman were blamed by Stanley P. Coward, eighteen-year-old mill worker, for trouble at Sidney on August 30 last which led him to face a charge of assault and occasioning actual bodily harm to Len Chow before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald at the Victoria Assizes.

Coward appeared before an assize jury by his own election at the preliminary proceedings.

The jury brought in a verdict of common assault. The judge deferred sentence until some time during the month of December.

W. C. Moreau, K.C., prosecuted for the Crown; W. H. Bullock-Webster appeared for the defence.

Mr. Bullock-Webster asked that accused be released on suspended sentence with the bail continued. Bail was continued until sentence is passed.

NEW ROAD BUILT NEAR VOLCANO

People of Sicily Reorganize Life After Eruption of Mount Etna

Giarre, Sicily, Nov. 14.—With the lava flow from Mount Etna diminishing hourly in intensity, natives of the stricken region to-day were gradually reorganizing their economic life to meet the new conditions nature has forced upon them.

Engineers were working away on a new road over which railway passengers and baggage will be transported so the cut in the Messina-Catania line will not hold up communications too long.

Steamer service between the two cities and the railway detour by way of Catania, Termini Imerese and Palermo have relieved the direct line somewhat. The functioning of the disrupted line is regarded as essential, however, to the movement of commodities for the entire district.

MAY TUNNEL LAVA

There was some talk to-day of tunnelling through the lava which spread over the road, as soon as the molten stream cooled and its flow subsided. This would restore the severed railway to normal condition.

One of the most radiant over the diminution of the lava flow was Leonardo Patane, whose age is 100 and who is known as the "grandfather of Nuziata." That intrepid old man steadfastly refused to budge from the threatened village. He proclaimed to all and sundry that he would be the last to leave. To-day he was exhibiting a broad and toothless grin, saying to all visitors: "I told you so."

DR. KING TALKS WITH FRUIT MEN

Federal Minister to Visit Okanagan Valley and Discuss Problems

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—Hon. J. H. King, British Columbia representative in the Federal Cabinet, will confer with boards of trade and organized fruitgrowers of the Okanagan Valley on outstanding problems of their districts, he announced to-day on his return from a short stay at Harrison Hot Springs.

Leaving Vancouver on Friday night, Dr. King will meet the Dominion Board of Trade and local fruitgrowers early Saturday afternoon and go on to Kelowna, where he will meet similar bodies in the evening. On Monday he will be at Vernon, where he will confer with Vernon Board of Trade and local fruitgrowers and others.

There will be no public meetings, simply round table conferences where I can get the views of all concerned," Dr. King said.

SHOPS FREE AFTER FALL OF BY-LAW

Only Sabbath Day and Wednesday Half Holiday Regulations Remain

City to Rush Work of Preparing New Early Closing By-law

It will take fifteen days to prepare an early closing by-law to take the place of the one attacked in city courts yesterday. It was stated by city officials this morning. Storekeepers meanwhile may keep their stores open day and night at all hours, in so far as city by-laws are concerned, with the exception of the Wednesday half-holiday regulation which remains under provincial legislation and is undisturbed.

The early closing by-law now declared inoperative provided, among other regulations, that stores might open for business at 3 a.m. and remain open until 6 p.m. With the defeat of the measure on technical grounds the situation is that stores may open at any hour and need not close with the exception of the usual Sunday and the Wednesday half holiday rules.

MAY BE UP THIS WEEK

The new by-law is now in course of preparation and may be considered at a meeting of the City Council to be held towards the close of this week, and be up for final passage on Monday next. Some time must elapse after that, however, before the measure can become operative, making fifteen days the earliest that the new regulations can be brought into effect.

A few days later, on December 15, the early closing by-law would be waived in any event, due to the December 15-December 31 period in which stores may remain open at night for the Christmas trade.

EFFECT WATCHED

The situation was of interest to-day to large numbers of store clerks, who, deprived of the protection of the by-law, were anxiously waiting to see if any change would be made in their hours of employment. Generally throughout the city, however, storekeepers are electing to observe the usual hours, even in the absence of the regulations, and few if any exceptions are expected to take place in that regard.

The defeat of the by-law, which was drawn up and passed some years ago, is drawing attention to the 2,500 by-laws of the city, many of which were prepared a long time ago. By-law revision has been mooted more than one occasion, and many of the measures have been rehabilitated or removed from time to time by amending or repealing measures.

The whole by-law structure is framed on the affirmative plan, city regulations setting out, under the authority of provincial legislation, what may be done. That simplification might result from a reversal of this method is a point that has been argued on many occasions in City Council circles.

Survivors Say Captain of Vestris Waited Too Long Before He Called Ships

Error of Judgment on Part of Master Blamed By Rescued Travelers for Disaster In Atlantic Which Took 108 Lives; Capt. William Carey Went Down With His Ship; Survivors Landed at New York.

New York, Nov. 14.—Through the joy over the 220 passengers and sailors saved and sorrow for the 108 lost when the liner Vestris went down at sea Monday, a strong note of criticism predominated as the survivors reached New York to-day.

Stories of the weary passengers, some of them slowly recovering from hours in the water, blamed Captain William Carey, late master of the Lampert & Holt liner, for the extent of the disaster. Passengers and sailors joined in praising the captain as a brave sailor, while many indicted him on charges of bad seamanship.

All in position to have knowledge of the facts said the captain was on his vessel when it sank, agreeing he died like a sailor.

The survivors, twenty-three of whom reached here this morning aboard the steamship Berlin, and 125 aboard the steamship American Shipper, did not know what crippled the Vestris and no explanation may be found. Some thought shifting cargo was to blame, while others believed a slight leak, growing greater as the hours went by, finally sounded the death knell of the sturdy sea-traveler 300 miles east of Virginia.

The charge against Captain Carey was that he waited too long to summon aid.

The Vestris sailed from Hoboken on Saturday afternoon for South America and soon developed trouble. Pumping and bailing went on Sunday morning when the vessel began to list, but no SOS call was sent for nearly twenty-four hours.

If assistance had been summoned a day earlier, it was suggested, a ship would have been standing by when the boats were launched, with the chances against any loss of life.

STORIES TOLD

Stories of pathos and enthusiastic praise of the heroism of the passengers suddenly precipitating a man and a woman, were in the water for almost an entire day. P. A. Dana, a Radio Corporation official, and Mrs. Clara Hall, a ship's stewardess, said they had maintained a precarious hold on floating debris for nearly twenty-four hours.

Mrs. Ed Devore saw her husband, an automobile racing driver, sink as she vainly tried to induce occupants of her boat to give him a hand.

Michael J. O'Loughlin, chief wireless operator, although bound by no such tradition of the sea as that forcing Captain Carey to stand by his ship, shed a hero's death after doing all he could to tell the world of ships of the desperate plight of the Vestris. The radio man's last message, "Help, help," as the lifeboats were being lowered. He was asking help for others, but not for himself.

OHIO MARU PROCEEDS

New York, Nov. 14.—The Radio Marine Corporation at 4:00 a.m. to-day received the following message here from the Ohio Maru:

"Sorry I can not find lifeboats of Vestris. At last we proceed for Italy."

LISTS AWAITED

Liverpool, Nov. 14.—Anxious women, carrying babies, gathered outside the Lampert and Holt Line office here at dawn in the hope that lists of those rescued or missing in the Vestris disaster would be posted. The office force maintained a night long vigil to receive news regarding those on the ship.

Michael J. O'Loughlin, missing radio operator of the Vestris, was twenty-nine years old and came from Camolin, County Wexford, Ireland. He studied wireless telegraphy at Glasgow.

TEN WOMEN RESCUED WHEN VESTRIS SANK

Twenty-seven Women and Thirteen Children Drowned in Atlantic

New York, Nov. 14.—The steamship Vestris, sank in the Atlantic Monday, when only about eighty of its 328 passengers and crew had been launched in lifeboats, after two boatloads of women and children had been hurled into the sea, most of them to die and while the rest were leaping from the ship's sides and swimming for their lives lest they be dragged down with the foundering vessel.

Survivors brought here to-day by two rescue ships said the traditions of the sea had been scrupulously observed as to giving first thought to the women and children, but fate had turned gallantly into disaster. And they told an appalling story of inadequate preparations for disaster.

The first two boats were filled with women and children—there were thirty-seven women and thirteen children on board—and the crew started to lower away. Then the sinking ship lurched, the boats crashed against its side and women and children were thrown into the waves. Reports available to-day indicate all the children perished and but ten of the women were saved.

LACK OF DECISION

On the whole, the 125 survivors who arrived here to-day aboard the steamship American Shipper and the twenty-three aboard the steamship Berlin agreed that in intention the officers and crew of the Vestris had been beyond criticism, but many blamed the captain, who was lost with his ship, for indecision which they say was one principal reason for the large loss of life, believed to total 108.

The ship began to list Saturday night, they said, and its condition grew more serious Sunday and yet no distress call was sent until the middle of Monday morning and as a result, the ships were on the scene until many hours after the ship had sunk at 1:30 that afternoon.

Pioneers and Descendants Meet For Ceremony at Miller Court Building

Another page was appended to the history of old Fort Victoria this afternoon when a few of the original pioneers and many descendants of the men and women who knew the old Hudson's Bay Post, assembled on the spot where the northeast bastion used to stand, now the corner of Government and Bastion Streets, to attend the unveiling of the commemorative tablet donated by Miller, Court & Company and placed on the side of its new building.

Premier Tolmie delivered an address reminiscent of the early history of the city, tracing its growth and speaking of the different figures who played important parts in its development.

ALBERTA MAN LOST WITH THE LINER VESTRIS

Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 14.—Keith W. Burt, son of W. W. Burt of Cardston, Alberta, was a passenger on the Vestris, bound for Buenos Ayres as a missionary for the Latter Day Saints' Church. He left Cardston about two weeks ago and sailed from New York. On Tuesday his father received a message from a friend in New York stating that, as it appeared, passengers on board had been saved, it was presumed Burt was among the survivors, but it is now feared he was on board the improvised raft which appears to have broken up before the arrival of rescue ships.

Full Inquiry Into the Vestris Tragedy Asked

New York, Nov. 14.—David Cooke, vice-president of the Lampert & Holt Line, said to-day the company would have nothing to say about criticism of officers on the lost steamship Vestris until there had been a full investigation and until those making the charges and those who would have to answer them had had a chance to get a complete rest.

BORAH SUPPORTS ANTI-WAR TREATY

New York, Nov. 14.—Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the Senate Peace Relations Committee, last night told a mass meeting of the World Alliance for International Friendship that he would go as far as he could in expediting the passage of the Kellogg-Briand multi-lateral treaty through the Senate.

The Idaho Senator announced his complete sympathy with the peace movement and said that in the future there should be incorporated in all peace plans the statement that war is a crime and that those who impel war are criminals.

DESBARATS COMMENDS DEFENCE TRAINING AT ESQUIMALT BASE

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Great satisfaction at the excellent condition of Western defence units was expressed to-day by G. J. Desbarats, Deputy Minister of National Defence, who returned from an inspection trip.

The fine training facilities at the naval station at Esquimalt, B.C., received praise. Each year a two-weeks course was given members of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and was attended by young men from the Western provinces, he said. The usual training in gunnery and navigation was being carried on for the members of the permanent force.

Last Moments Of Lost Ship's Head Described

New York, Nov. 14.—The last words of Captain William Carey of the Vestris were: "No, you jump."

They were brought to New York to-day by Alfred Duncan of Liverpool, one of the stewards of the Vestris who with twenty-two other persons rescued after the sinking of the ship arrived at New York to-day aboard the North German Lloyd liner Berlin.

He and the captain, Duncan said, were last to leave the ship.

"We stood by the rail," Duncan said, "and all the lifeboats had gone. We were the last on board."

"Jump," he said.

"You'd better jump, too," I said.

"Hell, no. You jump," he said.

"I jumped then, and I think I jumped after me. But I never saw him again."

NEW WING AT ST. JOSEPH'S PROGRESSING

Work Is Being Pushed on $360,000 Addition to Pioneer Hospital

Maternity, Operating and Other Departments to Have Latest Equipment

Steady progress is being made on the construction of the $360,000 wing for St. Joseph's Hospital. It was stated today by C. Elwood Watkins, architect, who designed the plans for the handsome new addition.

The work, started in November last year, has now progressed to the point where the roof is on the four and five story structure, and the roughing of plumbing and heating is taking place. Four stories have received the first plaster, while the final plastering has been started on the second floor, with the laying of the terrazzo and tiling on the ground floor.

MODERN DEPARTMENTS

The new wing, which stands 147 feet in its east and west direction, and 143 feet in the north and south facing on Humboldt Street, will be a handsome addition to the hospital, give accommodation for several completely new and modern departments.

The wing will accommodate the new maternity department, which is designed to be one of the most modern in equipment and accommodation on the coast; seven operating rooms which will occupy the entire fifth floor, and a complete new X-ray and electrical treatment department, equipped with the latest word in modern apparatus.

On the lower floors will be the dining and living rooms for the staff, and a feature of the new wing will be the open and closed sunrooms and verandas on the southern exposures of all floors and on the roof of the building.

STEAM TURNED ON

A fine new heating plant has been installed and steam has been turned on already. The plant includes two 150 horsepower horizontal return tubular boilers, with ample facility for the heating of the entire building. In the basement there are many heaters where steam is turned to heating the existing hot water systems. Oil burning equipment is also being installed.

The elevators of the new wing will be the latest in automatic elevation on the coast, with Otis Fensom gear, the guides for which are now being installed. A complete automatic system will be installed, with micro-levelling and floating platform, designed to give the greatest service in the handling of passengers and patients.

The general contract is in the hands of Lusby Bros., while other contracts including plumbing by E. A. Colbert; heating by Walter Pridham; electrical work by Hawkins and Hayward, as well as incidental contracts by other firms. No completion date has yet been fixed.

CITY ACCEPTS TWO BUFFALO

Wainwright Animals to Be Brought Here Next Spring

A pair of buffalo from Wainwright Park will make their appearance at Beacon Hill Park next spring if the City Council of 1929 follows the lead taken by its predecessor last night, in accepting the offer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to supply the animals and to provide for their housing.

The offer was advanced through W. T. Strath, president of the Junior Chamber, and was accepted unanimously by the council. Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the parks committee, outlined the details of the plan.

Donations had been received from the Canadian Pacific Railway towards the housing of the animals, and free transportation had been promised to convey them here, it was stated. The buffalo will be supplied by the National Park Board, but will not be moved until the spring of next year, when the danger from sudden changes in temperatures is likely to be least.

The gift of the buffalo, explained the letter from Mr. Strath, was intended by the chamber to go towards the creation of a zoo at Beacon Hill Park of native Canadian animals, the scope of which could be enlarged from time to time as funds permitted. The chamber is to be thanked for its efforts in this connection.

The Colwood Burns Club will hold its first old-time Scotch dance of the season on Wednesday, November 21, in Colwood Hall. Excellent music will be supplied and all lovers of these well-known Scotch dances are assured of an enjoyable evening. Refreshments will be served.

The Colwood basketball team met defeat at the hands of the Langford team, the score being 16-12. The Athletics will meet as usual on Saturday evening. The officers of the club announce the appointment of Mr. F. Trestrain as assistant boxing instructor.

Mr. J. W. Little has left for Vancouver on a short business trip.

Mrs. W. Longworth and J. Robinson were the winners at five hundred at the last weekly card party at Colwood Hall.

CHILDREN CROWDED IN REFUGE HOME

Two Children to Single Cot Is Condition Described to City Council

A condition of crowding in the Children's Aid Home, under which on one occasion two small children had to be placed in one cot, was reported to the City Council last night by the Children's Aid Society in a letter from H. Butters, the president.

A present, stated the communication, each child had a cot of his own, but the cots were placed side by side, and there would be no room for any additional children in the building, without endangering their health and creating a serious fire hazard.

Regarding the fire hazard, the letter provided a more suitable housing for the work of the society was suggested in the letter.

Acting Mayor P. R. Brown reported that the subject was under review, and asked that the letter be tabled for a further report. There was a possibility of an unlooked for solution of the congestion, he said, and asked that no action be taken by the council for a week. This course was adopted.

Sooke

There was a large attendance at the Armistice service held at Sooke Hall. Ex-service men paraded from the Canadian Legion headquarters. The Rev. S. Lundie conducted the service which was opened by observing the two minutes' silence. He preached a short and excellent sermon, the theme being "Righteousness and Peace." Besides the hymns "O Canada," and the "Recessional" were sung.

The funeral of the late William Bell Charters, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital on November 10, took place at the Knox Presbyterian Cemetery on Monday last, the Rev. S. Lundie conducting the service. The hymn sung was "Lead Kindly Light." Miss Milne played the organ. Many relatives and friends were present, beautiful wreaths and flowers covering the casket. The following were pall bearers: Rolf Strong, K. Cairns, W. Cairns, E. Shields, L. Shields and D. Carlow.

Much sympathy is felt in the district for Mrs. W. Charters in her bereavement. Mr. Charters was an old resident and highly esteemed. He was the owner of the Sooke saw mill.

The Ladies' Aid of the Knox Presbyterian Church will hold its annual sale of work and home cooking at the church on Friday.

Holy Trinity Church Women's Auxiliary will have its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. J. Hawkins to-day at 3 p.m.

Brentwood

The West Saanich Women's Institute will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, November 13, at 2.30 p.m. Mr. Alan Horsfield, leader of the Wolf Cubs, will address the meeting.

Much interest is being taken in the concert and dance to be given by the Brentwood Regatta Association in the Institute Hall on Friday, November 16. The concert programme provided by city talent will be followed by a dance for which Neary's Orchestra has been engaged, and refreshments will be served.

The West Saanich Women's Institute held its regular card party on Wednesday evening when ten tables of players enjoyed some keen games. First prizes were won by Mrs. A. Anderson, Mrs. R. J. Freshland, H. Lawrie and E. Bourgeois. With a score of twenty-six discs. Two tables, with a score of twenty-four, tied for second place, and the play-off resulted in the prizes going to Mrs. H. Lawrie, Mrs. E. Lawrie, L. Hagan and R. Hall. Refreshments were served after the game by Mrs. H. Buckle and Mrs. Anderson, hostesses for the evening.

THIRTY-ONE NEW CRUISERS FOR NAVY OF THE U.S.

British Expert Makes Estimate of Plans Now Being Discussed in Republic

London, Nov. 14.—(Canadian Press Cable)—“There goes all hope of naval disarmament,” said a naval expert yesterday to the Canadian Press in commenting on Washington cable dispatches outlining the heavy cruiser programme of the General Board of the United States Navy. “It is proposed,” he said, “to replace all old cruisers with modern cruisers of 10,000 tons with eight-inch guns, the largest size permitted under the Washington naval agreement. Taking the figures of the current Bracey Naval Annual, this means the replacing of eleven armored cruisers and twenty light cruisers, or a total of thirty-one new 10,000-ton cruisers—a truly stupendous programme of new construction. In the Geneva discussions last year the highest number of 10,000-ton cruisers proposed in all was sixteen, or just about half what this programme calls for. “However, we need not worry just yet,” he said. “Paper programmes do not always fill the building ships and not even a Republican Congress is likely to endorse a programme of such dimensions, which could only be regarded as aggressive by the very powers the United States has so recently succeeded in drawing into the multilateral peace pact.”

NEW PLAN FOR PRODUCE SALES

Co-operation Should Start on Land, Says B.C. Potato Committee Chairman

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—“Price fixing and compulsory co-operation in themselves will never be satisfactory solutions of the marketing problem,” said Colonel A. W. McLellan, chairman of the Mainland Potato Committee of Direction, discussing the British Columbia Marketing Act, which, he said, had come in for considerable discussion. “For years all branches of the farming industry have tried voluntary co-operative marketing,” the chairman said. “Some organizations have reached ninety per cent strength, but nevertheless failed because the ten per cent uncontrolled became the battering ram in the hands of concentrated buyers to destroy the organization.”

PROTECTIVE The solution, in Colonel McLellan's opinion, would be to have voluntary co-operation up to a certain point, reinforced by legislation in the way of a protective marketing act (by no means class legislation, he explained). It should protect all concerned in the marketing of the products, he believes, these being the growers, the processors, the wholesalers and the retailers, the natural marketing channels of the products. “Protection,” said Col. McLellan, “means fixing prices, that is, a fair price to the grower, a fair spread to the wholesaler and retailer, in these cases a minimum price only, and to the consumer a maximum and maximum price—maximum to be used on top grades—and in all cases prices to be fair and reasonable.

ON THE LAND “Now in the case of potatoes we have to go farther, right back to the land, and that is where voluntary co-operation must start. The growers must organize in locals and then link up under a central organization, the locals to be used for purposes of grading and shipping and the central for the purpose of marketing. This part ought to be purely voluntary and need only be about fifty per cent strong. Those who wished to ship independently could do no harm to their neighbors, as the protective legislation in fixing the minimum and maximum prices and regulating the grades, would prevent the independent shippers from destroying the organization and it would only be a question of time until the consuming public, who appreciate a quality article and uniform grade, would force the independent shippers to join the organization.

“The central organization could develop markets for the lower grades, such as export seed and selling in bulk to stock feeding depots and starch factories.

“It is probable the locals could make arrangements with the Federal Government's inspecting department for inspectors in the shipping season to see the proper grades were put up.”

Cecil Advocates New Defence Plan

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 14.—“We ought to say at the appropriate moment to the United States, ‘We are with you; we are prepared for equality; we accept the basis you put before us; let the equality extend to ships and guns alike and we shall be satisfied.’” This was a declaration of Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, former Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, speaking here yesterday. “That is the sound basis for agreement,” he continued. “If it could be achieved it would be a worthy sequel to the peace pact and a great glory to the English-speaking countries of the world.”

POINCARÉ PARTY WINS

Paris, Nov. 14.—The forces of Premier Poincaré scored a victory in the Senate yesterday in their first encounter with the new opposition, when former Premier Caillaux, Radical, was overwhelmingly defeated for membership in the finance committee, to which he had belonged during all his political life. The Poincaré supporters say M. Caillaux was the man behind the scenes during the recent Radical Congress at Angers, and was responsible for the resignation of the Poincaré Cabinet a week ago.

AVIATOR'S FEAT

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 14.—William Van Gorder, a student at the local aero club, proved his ability at the club's field here yesterday. Mrs. Basil E. Spurling was hostess at a most delightful party on the occasion of her son Roger's thirteenth birthday. The children spent an enjoyable time playing games. The tea table was attractively centred by a hand-some birthday cake. Those present were: Miss Dora Spurling, Hermoine and Roger Spurling, Susan and Michael Ankettell-Jones, John Stubbs, Nancy Lang and Mabel Knight, Mrs. Spurling, Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Lang, Mrs. E. M. Ankettell-Jones and Mrs. Toynbee.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. P. Stubbs and Master John Stubbs were visitors to Victoria last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carthew spent Thanksgiving with friends in Victoria.

Miss Baker of Shawnigan Lake was the holiday guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Inglis, Fuller's Lake.

Master Rawson and Miss Rosemary Stewart were guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Duke, Victoria.

Miss N. Dwyer was the guest for Thanksgiving of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer, Duncan.

Miss M. Dyke and Miss Wollaston were week-end visitors to Victoria.

Shawnigan Lake

The veterans of Shawnigan and Cobble Hill held the annual dinner on Saturday evening in the S.I.A.A. Hall, upward of fifty attending, representing all branches of the service. Col. F. T. Oldham acted as chairman. The affair proved an unqualified success.

The chairman acted as toast master. The toast to the King was followed by a toast to the fallen heroes, when a two-minute silence paid tribute to the fallen heroes.

After the dinner the evening was spent with song and story. Captain Pauline mystified the gathering with some clever card tricks. C. Goode, First Canadian Pioneer, received a great ovation for his clever impersonation of Harry Lauder. Messrs. A. Dyson, R. Grainger, T. Ward, Captain Arthur Lane, George Neville and Eric Walker contributed to the programme. At midnight “Auld Lang Syne” was sung in traditional manner. It was decided to hold a dinner next year. Col. F. T. Oldham was re-elected secretary and J. C. Rathbone secretary. A vote of thanks was given the hall directors for the free use of the hall.

Ladysmith

Despite the rain, a large crowd attended the Armistice service which was held at the War Memorial Sunday at 10.30 under the auspices of the Ladysmith Unit No. 52 Army and Navy Veterans of Canada. The Ladysmith Extension Band, Boy Scouts and school children paraded to the memorial from their respective meeting places.

The ceremony opened with the singing of “O God, Our Help in Ages Past,” after which the Rev. E. M. Cooke, of St. John's Church, led in prayer, followed by a scripture lesson by Rev. W. E. Brown, of the United Church. The tolling of the bell at 11 o'clock was the signal for two minutes' silence, and then Bugler S. Devlin of Nanaimo, sounded the Last Post. Many beautiful wreaths were laid upon the memorial. As the rain became heavier it was decided to finish the service in the Rialto Theatre where an address was given by Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe. The hymn, “Eternal Father Strong to Save” was then sung, after which benediction was said by Rev. E. M. Cooke. The singing of the National Anthem brought a very impressive ceremony to a close.

The United Church was filled Sunday evening for the Armistice service, which was conducted by the minister, Rev. W. E. Brown. The soloist for the evening was Mrs. J. Masson. The local Army and Navy Veterans attended the service. The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, and a wreath was laid on the Memorial Tablet.

Prize winners at the whist drive held Saturday evening in the A.O.P. Hall, under the auspices of the Forsters Lodge, and at which twelve tables were in play, were as follows: Ladies' first, Miss S. Robertson; second, Mrs. F. Dooley; gentlemen's first, E. Byles; second, F. Saunders of Victoria.

Miss Agnes Ferguson, student at the Normal School, Victoria, spent the Thanksgiving holiday here with her father.

Mrs. A. E. Jones spent the week-end with her sister in Victoria.

J. Harrison left during the week-end for Princeton.

Miss Jean Greenhorn of Vancouver, spent the Thanksgiving holiday here with her parents.

E. Cull has returned to his home in Victoria after visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cull.

Edwin Akenhead of Point Grey, spent the week-end here with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Saunders and children of Victoria, spent the week-end holiday here with Mrs. Saunders' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Whiskers.

George Ferguson, student at the Normal School, Victoria, spent the Thanksgiving holiday here with his parents.

NOBEL PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Stockholm, Nov. 14.—Sigrd Undset, Norwegian authoress, yesterday was awarded the 1928 Nobel Prize for Literature by the Swedish Academy. The 1927 Literature Prize also was awarded yesterday to Henri Bergson.

Mme. Sigrd Undset became known to the English-speaking world through her novel, “Kristin Lavransdatter,” published in 1920. It deals with conditions in the fourteenth century and is typical of her ability to set forth the mind of the Middle Ages.

Henri Bergson, winner of the 1927 Nobel Prize, award of which was postponed, is a naturalized Frenchman. His chief claim to fame has been the evolution of a radically novel system of philosophy.

The Nobel Prizes for Literature are this year worth $42,000 each. This is a new record in valuation.

The 1928 Nobel Prize in Medicine was awarded on October 25 to Dr. Charles Nicolle, head of the Pasteur Institute in Tunis and noted for his work in combating spotted fever.

PEACE PRIZE

The annual Peace Prize will be awarded by a committee of five in Oslo, chosen by the Norwegian Parliament, but the cheque given to the winner with the specially engraved diploma is drawn on a Stockholm bank.

German scientists carried off the Nobel Prizes for chemistry for both 1927 and 1928. Prof. Heinrich Wieland of Munich was given the first for his investigation of gall acids, while Professor Adolph Windaus of Goettingen won the award for the year by his study of vitamins.

Prof. A. W. Mair Burned to Death In Edinburgh Home

Edinburgh, Scotland, Nov. 14.—Overcome by fumes from a fire which broke out in the study of his home while he was sleeping, Dr. Alexander W. Mair, professor of Greek at Edinburgh University, was burned to death yesterday. Dr. Mair, who was fifty-three years of age, had been head of the Greek department of Edinburgh University since 1903. He was classical examiner at the University of London from 1919 till 1923 and was the author of a number of books.

AUNT OF CZAR BRINGS ACTION

Princess Paley Sues English Jewellers for Lost Russian Treasures

London, Nov. 14.—A romantic story is likely to be unfolded in the Law Courts this month when the action which Princess Paley is bringing for the recovery of certain property comes on for hearing. Princess Paley is the widow of the Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovich, uncle of the late Czar of Russia.

The defendants are a number of English and French jewellers who as a syndicate bought many art treasures from the Princess's palace at Czarskoe Selo, near Petrograd.

These treasures were, it is alleged, sold by the Bolsheviks to the syndicate in good faith. The Princess alleges that the Bolsheviks stole her property, and she is now trying to recover it.

In the meantime, the treasures, contained in more than 200 huge cases, are in a bonded warehouse in the docks at Wapping.

DICKENS SCENES AT CELEBRATION B.C.'S BIRTHDAY

Premier Tolmie to Speak at Lady Douglas-Chapter Function Monday

Scenes from Charles Dickens's famous works will lend an appropriate note to the programme arranged by the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., for its celebration of the seventieth birthday of British Columbia, to be held at the Empress Hotel on Monday evening, Nov. 15. F. Tolmie will give the opening address, and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie will be guests of honor.

The programme follows in detail: 8:15—Opening address, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of British Columbia. Duets—(1) "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," (2) "The Keys of Heaven," Mrs. W. H. Wilson, W. C. Fyfe.

Scene from Dickens's "Martin Chuzzlewit"—"A Division Between Friends," Betsy Prig, Mrs. E. C. Hayward. Duets—(1) "I Know a Bank Where on the Wild Thyme Grows," (2) "The A.B.C. Duet," Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Beverly Fyfe.

Scene from Dickens's "Barnaby Rudge"—"Stormy Scenes in the Varden Household," First scene, Evening, second scene, Morning, Mrs. Varden, Randolph Stuart; Mrs. Varden, Mrs. Colin Cummins; Dolly Varden, Mrs. D. H. McTavish; Edward Chester, Hugh Allen; Misses, Mrs. A. M. Boyd, Song—"My Own True Love," Mrs. D. McTavish.

Scene from "Nicholas Nickleby"—"The Gentleman from Next Door," Nickleby, Mrs. E. C. Hayward; Kate Nickleby, Mrs. Pat Sinnott; the harmless lunatic, W. Hastie Cochrane. Trip—(1) "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," (2) "The Regular Queen," Mrs. H. Wilson, Beverly Fyfe, W. C. Fyfe.

A short talk by Archibald Flower, chairman of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, God Save the King.

WILL VISIT OLD TOLMIE FARM

Native Daughters Invited to Well-known Homestead By Miss Tolmie

Members of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, are looking forward to a visit this month to the old Tolmie homestead at the invitation of Miss Tolmie. This was one of the interesting matters brought up at the monthly meeting of the Post held in the Victoria Club last night, with the Chief Factor, Miss Lottie Bowron, presiding.

A very interesting discussion took place with regard to the resolution, sponsored by the Local Council of Women, regarding Bible reading in the public schools.

An invitation was extended to the Chief Factor to attend the unveiling of the Memorial Tablet on the Miller Court Building this afternoon.

The next meeting will be held on November 27, when initiation ceremony will take place followed by a social evening. The attendance prize was won by Miss Bowron.

Proposals!

A glance at her blonde loveliness tells better than words why this beautiful New York City girl has received such flattering proposals from kings of movie and stage land. She's Collette Francis of 255 East 25th St., Brooklyn; now one of the charmers in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita."

Miss Francis says: "Since I've been on the stage, so many people have asked me what I do to get the beautiful golden gleam and sparkle in my hair that I am beginning to think I'm really taking wonderful care of it. I really never thought much about it. What I do is so simple. Like so many of my girl friends here in New York, I just put a little Danderine on my brush each time I use it. That keeps my hair silky and gleaming, makes it easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours. My scalp was very dry and I had a lot of dandruff when I first started on it, but all of that trouble stopped quickly. And Danderine keeps my hair so clean. I don't need to shampoo half as often, now."

Danderine removes that oily film from your hair and gives it new life and lustre. It isn't oily and doesn't show. It gives tone and vigor to the scalp. The generous bottles are just 35c at any drug or toilet counter. A delicately fragrant necessity for the well-groomed girl. (Adv.)

MISS COLLETTE FRANCIS

Mr. Ormond, Bishop of London, England, who accompanied the Bishop of London on his tour of Canada, is a visitor in the city and is the guest of the Bishop of Columbia and Mrs. Schofield at Bishop's Close.

Mrs. Evan Hanbury and Baby Patsy Hanbury returned to Victoria last week from San Francisco, California, where they have been visiting for the last two months as the guests of Mrs. Hanbury's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric George of Honolulu, who have been visiting in Victoria as the guests of the former's parents, Major and Mrs. Francis George, Fairfield Road, and Mrs. George's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ford Verrinder, McGregor Avenue, left to-day on a Niagara for their home in Honolulu.

ADMIRAL BRUEN AT INSTITUTE'S TEA YESTERDAY

Compliments Ladies' Guild Upon Its Excellent Work For Sailors

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie were guests of honor at a delightful tea in the Victoria Seamen's Institute, yesterday afternoon, when the Victoria Ladies' Guild for Sailors entertained Admiral E. P. Bruen, C.B., and Mr. H. E. Barker, general secretary of the British Sailors' Society, which operates institutes for sailors in all parts of the world. Mrs. Alice Thomson, president of the Ladies' Guild, received the guests, assisted by the members of the committee.

Mr. Samuel Handy celebrated his ninety-third birthday on November 11 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. C. Robertson, Shawinigan Lake, B.C. Mr. Handy came to this country seventy years ago, residing for many years at Mill Bay, where his children were born, and latterly living in Port Alberni for thirty years. In spite of his great age, Mr. Handy enjoys excellent health and saws wood daily to keep himself fit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Welch of Midsummer Norton, Somerset, England, who spent the week-end in Victoria, took the opportunity of making a stop over in Victoria during the week-end, looking up former residents of that place. The work of seamen's libraries, on board ship was explained and the necessity of homelike surroundings when in port, was pointed out.

The work of seamen's libraries, on board ship was explained and the necessity of homelike surroundings when in port, was pointed out.

What work is being done in Quebec, Montreal and Toronto, where the Navy League had shown itself in full sympathy with the efforts of the society on behalf of the sailors of the merchant marine, were all favorably commented upon by Admiral Bruen.

HEUT-GOVERNOR'S WELCOME
Mr. Barker expressed his pleasure at meeting so many people with whom he had been in correspondence for years. Mrs. Thomson, J. Gordon Smith, Mr. Arthur Coles and Col. Wilby. He stressed the great need for the realization by the people at large of all the sailor means to Canada and the Empire.

The Lieut-Governor heartily welcomed the distinguished gentlemen to Victoria. The commendation of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales was a command to Victoria's people to be delighted to honor Admiral Bruen and Mr. Barker, said His Honor.

His Honor alluded in complimentary terms to the long years of active and distinguished service which Admiral Bruen had given to the Empire. He paid a tribute to the Connaught Institute and to Mrs. Thomson, Col. Wilby and Mr. Coles.

Referring to the great increase in shipping on the Pacific Coast, His Honor called attention to the fact that not long ago seventy vessels arrived at the port of Vancouver in one year, while last year thirty vessels arrived in a day. The general prosperity of Canada as a whole made him hopeful that in the near future it would not be necessary to call upon support from the British Sailors' Society to carry on the work of such institutes in Victoria, but that they would be self-supporting and even in a position to help the Mother Country in her efforts on behalf of her sailors.

Madame Claudet, accompanied by Major Watts, sang delightfully the "Flower Song" from "Faust," and "Land of the Sky-blue Water." Col. Wilby moved a vote of thanks to the British Sailors' Society and the mercantile marine. Mr. Coles seconded the vote.

TEA SERVED.
Tea was then served by Mrs. E. Verrinder-Thomson, Miss Schwartz, Mrs. Finmore, assisted by the committee of ladies. At the guest table with Mrs. Thomson were His Honor the Lieut-Governor and Miss Mackenzie, Admiral Bruen and Mr. Barker, Col. and Mrs. Wilby, Mr. Coles, Mrs. McKinnon, Mrs. Healey Kerr, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. A. E. Hodgins, Dean Quinton; Mrs. Corby, representing the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Miss Bruce, Miss MacDonald and Mrs. C. D. Neutrosos.

After tea an executive meeting of the committee was held in the lounge room, where a very satisfactory understanding was reached and the Admiral and Mr. Barker again complimented and commended the splendid work being accomplished by Mr. and Mrs. Rodway, who are in charge of the Victoria Connaught Seamen's Institute.

Purple Star Bazaar—Under the auspices of the Victoria Purple Star Lodge No. 104, I.O.B.A., a bazaar will be held on Saturday next at 9:30 a.m. on Douglas Street, near Pandora. Face Peeler is Best Complexion Beautifier

One reason mercolized wax is so strongly recommended is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time and expense. As the wax is gently applied, it gradually dissolves the under skin gradually appears clearer, softer, healthier-bred and more youthful. There's nothing better to remove liver spots, sallowness, pimples or blackheads. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and age stains, use at face lotion 1 ounce powdered acetic acid and 1 half pint witch hazel. At all drug stores. (Adv.)

A Wife's Gratitude

"I wish," she writes, "you would make all husbands carry large policies."

Her husband is totally and permanently disabled but receives a life income of $200 a month because the agent persuaded him to take a $20,000 policy instead of $5,000, which would have paid only $50 monthly. No wonder she is grateful to the Agent.

At her husband's death the wife will have $20,000 instead of $5,000; or, at 5%, $1,000 a year instead of $250.

Evangelist Refuses to Curtail Campaign in England

Bristol, Eng., Nov. 14.—Aimee Semple McPherson, who is conducting an evangelistic campaign, yesterday said she had no intention of cutting it short because of the publicity growing out of the new investigation in Los Angeles concerning her disappearance. It had been suggested in some quarters that she cancel her farewell meetings to-night and Thursday night in Albert Hall, London, but she declared she had no intention of taking that advice, and promised England "a novel experience" in her first illustrated lecture to-day. Mrs. McPherson has engaged passage for New York, sailing on Friday.

MRS. AL SMITH'S BIRTHDAY CAKE

Mrs. Al Smith had a birthday November 6. Although that also was election day, her husband wasn't too busy to help her celebrate. When they went to the National Democratic Club in New York City, they found this giant cake had been prepared in Mrs. Smith's honor. And there was no trace of the "Unhappy Warrior" in her husband's smile when they posed together for this picture.

Hollywood Silver Tea—The Ladies' Guild of the Hollywood Presbyterian Mission will hold a silver tea and sale of work at the Mission Hall, Wildwood Avenue, to-morrow afternoon from 2.30 until 5.30. Altar Society Tea—Mrs. Harry Hartnell, 1124 May Street, will be hostess to the Altar Society of St. Andrew's Cathedral and friends at a silver tea on Friday afternoon, when there will be a musical programme and a talk on pottery-making in Victoria by Mrs. Margaret Grute.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

by Mary Blake

Domestic Science Counselor

Glorifying the Lowly Potato

I sometimes think that we take potatoes as we do some women—very much for granted—until we see them all "dressed up" and realize for the first time how intriguing they really are. You know how much you enjoy the less ordinary versions of potatoes in a good restaurant—the feathery nothingness of potato soufflé, the rich savor of potatoes O'Brien au gratin, the crisp shoestring potatoes. Why not vary your own program a trifle?

In Potato Recipes Milk Plays a Vital Part

Whether you serve potatoes Delmonico—layers of creamed potatoes and cheese browned in a baking dish—mashed potatoes of a fluffy lightness, creamily scalloped, on the half shell, or au gratin, the most important thing is the quality of milk you use. I have learned through long experience that by using Carnation Milk I get a creamy, rich smoothness that even the best of bottled milk cannot equal. There's very good reason for this superiority. Carnation is milk of the very finest, most dependable quality—pure, whole milk from selected herds. It's sterilized to keep it pure and wholesome, protecting you from the spoiled dishes that result when you use milk of doubtful freshness.

Besides that, Carnation Milk has a very wonderful special quality. It's "homogenized"—the cream content broken up into minute particles and distributed all through the milk, giving every single drop its share of cream—a double share in fact, for Carnation is evaporated to double richness. This generous proportion of cream in Carnation Milk effects a genuine economy in saving butter. "Homogenization" also gives a rich, creamy smoothness that improves the quality of all cookery in which Carnation is used.

Here I've given two potato recipes. You'll find others in the Carnation Cook Book—"My Hundred Favorite Recipes." It's free. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Potatoes on the Half Shell

6 smooth, medium sized potatoes, 2 tsp. butter, salt, pepper, 6 tbsp. Carnation Milk, 2 tsp. water, white of 1 egg, 2 tsp. grated cheese. Bake potatoes in hot oven for about 45 minutes. Cut cap from side of each; scoop out and mash potato; add seasonings, hot diluted Carnation Milk and beaten egg white; refill, sprinkle with cheese, brown in oven for about 8 minutes.

Carnation Scalloped Potatoes

6 medium sized potatoes, 1½ tsp. salt, pepper, 3 tbsp. butter, ¼ cup Carnation Milk diluted with ¼ cups water, 2 tsp. flour. Scald diluted milk in double boiler. Pare potatoes, soak and cut in ¼-inch slices; place layer of potatoes in buttered baking dish, season, dredge with flour, dot with butter; repeat; add milk to cover. Bake till soft in 350° F. oven.

For Anything Creamed

WHETHER it's creamed vegetables or creamed fish—creamy Carnation Milk makes all the difference in the results. Keep Carnation always on hand for all cooking. It keeps. It saves butter. (See recipes above)

"From Contented Cows"

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a particular reply.

HOW MUCH SHOULD THE WELL BABY BE HANDLED?

The distress of one young mother who, because her baby book said that a baby should not be handled, allowed her young infant to cry from gas pains, when a moment's attention to changing his position was found later to end it, is the stimulus to the above question.

There have to be some rules made about rearing infants, merely as a guide lines. Therefore, on general principles, baby books warn a mother not to be too disturbed by an infant's wails and remind her that he is better off in bed than lying on her lap. All of which is quite true, but, like all advice, it can never be taken too literally. Most young mothers, in their nervous fear of a cry, make the mistake of handling babies too much, and besides making them more nervous and irritable, teach them that crying brings them pleasurable attention. But it is one thing to give a baby too much attention, and another to allow him to lie all day in his carriage or crib, and turn deaf ears to his cries of pain because, supposedly, he only cries for exercise. The first is certainly more excusable than the second.

Handling is a stimulant to the child and that is the exact reason why it can be overdone, and why a certain sensible amount of it is needed by the child. Infants children fail to develop because they lack mothering and he all day like little logs. Children like to be carried about, for the changes of position arouse the kinesthetic senses to activity and prepare the baby for those later stages of development when he will support his head, sit up and creep.

The nursing or bottle baby may need his position changed after a feeding in order that he may be relieved of gas. This amount of attention won't start any bad habits and he will go to sleep far more quickly when the gas is up and he is comfortable. After he has slept an hour if he is turned over and clothes and bedding rearranged he will respond by going back to sleep for another long period.

The exercise of having the skin washed and rubbed at bath time is also a normal part of the child's education, and the hours he is held while being nursed or bottle fed (he should be held then always), make up a total of "holding" that is sufficient for the well baby.

For that reason experts, knowing that any well-cared-for baby will inevitably, in the course of his day, be held any number of times, stress the fact that holding should not be overdone.

Everything seemed a Burden

"I feel I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have derived from Kruschen Salts. For three years I suffered from constipation, depression and nerves which made everything seem a burden. After attending doctors on and off for this period, I commenced to take Kruschen and from then I gradually got back to my usual state of health. I have now resumed my duties and work is once more a pleasure."

"I am continuing with Kruschen Salts and after being back at business nearly six weeks am maintaining the 'Kruschen feeling' and recommend the public to take the 'little daily dose,' and keep themselves fit these bustling days. I shall always be pleased to answer any enquiries in praise of Kruschen Salts."

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

THE TOURING RECORD

One Mother Says—I find that when touring a considerable distance I can keep the children amused by having them keep a record of their trip. On paper or cardboard they jot down, in columns, the names of towns passed through, what the speedometer registers at each place, the number of miles from one town to the next, and the total number of miles covered. I usually keep a record, too, and at the end of the trip we check over the records and a small prize is given to the one who has the neatest-looking report, which also includes having the names of the towns spelled correctly.

A TEMPTING DELIGHT

BAKER'S COCONUT

Langford

A delightful children's fancy-dress party was given at Langford Lakeside on Saturday night by Mrs. J. C. C. Bennett in honor of her daughter, Cecily's birthday. The hall was very attractively draped with orange bunting, and large Chinese lanterns held electric lights. Dancing and games were enjoyed. Prizes were won by Eileen Hinks for balloon dancing, and Margaret Smiley for musical chairs. A delicious supper was served on small tables. The invited guests, who all wore pretty costumes and masks, were: Betty Smiley, old-fashioned lady; Margaret Smiley, early Victorian; Cecily Bennett, Indian queen; Pamela Bennett, gipsy dancer; Dorothy Ford, ballet dancer; Georgina Looney, pirate; Betty Looney, Turkish lady; Stella Hinks, pink rose bush; Eileen Hinks, oranges and lemons; John Pennington, ghost; Keith Brown, American Ambassador to the Court of Spain; Campbell Brown, Robin Hood; Ronald McCrimmon, sheik; John Meredith-Jones, pirate; Kenneth Hinks, clown; Dean Johnston, Brownie; and Henry Bennett, yellow-striped cat.

The morning church services here on Armistice Sunday were very well attended, and many members of the Prince Edward Branch of the Canadian Legion were present. The altar flowers included rosemary (for remembrance) and large poppies, while a handsome poppy wreath was hung on the memorial pulpit, assisted by the children's choir, consisting of Mrs. James L. Brown and Miss Ada Simpson, rendered pleasingly R. L. Stevenson's "Requiem" as the anthem. The two minutes' silence was observed in standing prayer.

Rev. H. S. Payne conducted the service and preached from St. Matthew, fifth chapter and ninth verse: "Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God."

Mrs. Horace Simpson presided at the organ. A celebration of Holy Communion immediately followed morning service.

The Prince Edward Branch of the Canadian Legion held a successful sale of work and dance in its clubhouse on the Island Highway on Friday evening. The hall had been attractively decorated with poppies for the occasion. Mrs. A. G. Mackie and Miss K. Norman supervised the work stall, which contained both useful and ornamental articles. The stalls were eagerly sought after by the visitors.

Guessing the name of a beautiful doll, artistically dressed as a fairy by Mrs. A. Pennington, proved to be difficult, as no one suggested the right name, "Wendy." On being drawn the doll went to Mr. Sam Watts.

The Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held its fortnightly card party at the Institute Hall on Monday evening. A very pleasant evening was spent, six tables of five hundred being played. The prize winners were: Highest score, Mrs. Grouette and Mr. Helmsley; ten bid, Mrs. Rowland and Mr. Helmsley; consolation, Mrs. Austin and Mr. K. Foster. After the game delicious refreshments were served by the copiers, Mrs. Austin and Mr. Humphries. The next card party will be held on Monday, November 26.

Nervous Indigestion

does not come from over-eating or from unwholesome food; it is merely the result of nerve strain, worry and over-work.

But nervous indigestion not only spoils the pleasure of good meals, but gives rise to numerous other causes of suffering and ill-health.

Most cases need only a good tonic. Fellows' Syrup has been acknowledged for half a century as the greatest tonic for the nervous system. It relieves strain, quiets the nerves, stimulates the appetite, and aids digestion. This fine old tonic is now prescribed by physicians in 58 different countries.

AIR HARBOR BROACHED BY CITY COUNCIL

City Without Real Provision For Water-landing Aircraft, It Is Stated

Council to Meet Fire Underwriters on Rates at Date to Be Selected

The city will investigate the necessity of the creation of an air harbor here for water-landing aircraft, following a decision made by the City Council last night. The council received an offer from the Victoria Petroleum Company, Limited, of a slipway and other facilities if a reservation was made for a hydro-plane landing base between the B.A. Paint Company's wharf and Raymond Wharf, on the south side of the harbor.

The suggestion that this site be set aside for the purpose was referred to the industrial committee for report. As matters stood at present, stated the letter of the oil company, visiting seaplanes had no official place to go when landing here, and the city was losing valuable attention from the air lanes by reason of that condition. The council referred the proposal to committee for a study of the best site to be selected, and for an investigation into other factors of the case.

The council vetoed a suggestion advanced by the Trades and Labor Council that a plumbing inspector be added to the staff of the city services in addition to the existing personnel. Alderman E. S. Woodward and R. A. C. Dewar urged an inquiry into the present system of inspection, but secured no other support. Alderman William Marchant said the existing system was a satisfactory one, and in the hands of capable officials.

FIRE INSURANCE

On fire insurance and fire control matters the council agreed to meet the officials of the B.C. Underwriters Association, Fire Branch, at a date to be fixed. Alderman J. L. Mara tabled the suggestions made by the underwriters at the recent conference, and agreed that copies of the detailed recommendations of the insurance body should be supplied to the heads of city departments affected, as well as to each wardman.

Alderman Woodward said he was willing that the council should meet the underwriters again, but was not willing that rates and fire control should become interwoven in the same party. The city was entitled to rate reduction, but that phase of the case, he submitted, the further conference with the underwriters was left to the fire wardens to arrange.

Arterial highway additions and parking regulations sought by the Police Board were referred to committee for report. The council was divided as to whether one hour parking should be made to apply to Douglas Street between Fort and Broughton Streets, or whether the petitioned to follow the course. Further arterial highway alterations should await a reasonable period of time, when all can be put through together, it was stated.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES

The City's power to regulate private detectives and bailiffs is to be studied by the city solicitor, at the request of the Police Board.

The works committee recommended the expenditure of $650 on Memorial Avenue in 1929 for the installation of surface drains and other work. The council approved the vote as a recommendation to the next year's council.

CAST UP BY SEA

F. M. Preston, city engineer, reported that he had found six tin cans, some oranges and a grapefruit on the Fleming Beach at Esquimalt, the subject of garbage complaints from that municipality. This garbage "city garbage" floating back from sea, stated the engineer in his report. The city will again advise Esquimalt that in its opinion the refuse is coming to shore from passing vessels.

The cemetery fund upkeep by-law, a measure authorizing the city to receive capital sums in trust, the income of which would serve to pay for the upkeep of private plots at Ross Bay, received preliminary consideration, and was tabled after progress had been reported in the committee stage.

The by-law proposes a scale of charges of from $100 to $400, the income of which would keep private plots of varying sizes. Sums received under this measure would become an outright gift to the city, though held in trust for the specified purpose.

The council gave first reading to a by-law by which the city would acquire title to property held in the name of William Duck, and which consists of a lane south from Johnston Street between business properties facing on Government and Broad Streets respectively.

Keating

The weekly meeting of the South Saanich Young People's Club took place in the church parlor on Monday evening. George Hafer leading the opening services. During the business meeting, W. McLure, of the service committee, presented a programme drawn up for the entertainment to be given by the club at the Aged Men's and Women's Homes in Victoria on November 29 and 30. Tickets were distributed among the members to be sold for the entertainment, "Go Slow, Mary," to be presented by the Sidney Young People in the Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening, November 22. Mr. Stuart Soddart, leader of the world citizenship committee, lead the members in a discussion on the League of Nations after the business meeting, and a profitable hour was spent in studying the subject. The meeting next Monday will be in charge of the missionary committee.

Len Collins entertained a number of friends from the district and Victoria at a jolly party in the new social room at "Spooners" on Monday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent with dancing and a dainty supper was served.

Three games of basketball are scheduled for Friday evening, November 16, in the Temperance Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock. Refreshments and dancing will follow.

L. D. Taylor, of Mount Newton, will address the Farmers' Institute in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening

COLLAPSED ON FIRST BED

Kidneys were terrible, Hamilton woman declares.

Blesses Gin Pills

To Mrs. Louise Pike life was unbearable. She admits frankly, "I had backache almost continually—could not carry a pail of water without getting dizzy or giddy."

What a plight to be in! But this wasn't all. Mrs. Pike's letter states further, "I couldn't sweep the floor without sitting down frequently, or walk upstairs without collapsing on the first bed. I decided now I feel Pills," she goes on, "and now I feel the best I have ever felt in my life."

Attention to your kidneys now may save you pain and money later. Take Gin Pills the very first time you notice symptoms of trouble—backache, dizzy spells, spots before your eyes, headaches, swollen joints, brick dust in urine, a burning sensation attendant on scanty or too frequent urination. Soothe and strengthen your kidneys. Stay healthy. 50c a box at your drug store. National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada Limited, Toronto, Canada.

The subject of his address to be "Seeds and Bulbs."

The South Saanich Junior Institute held its November meeting at the home of Miss Edith Bickford, Benvenuto Avenue, on Thursday evening. The president, Miss Nellie Styan, was in the chair, and the evening was taken up with arranging for the sale of work, concert and dance to be held in the Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening, December 5. The next sewing bee will be held at the home of Miss Mabel Miller, on Saturday afternoon, November 17. The annual meeting and the election of officers will take place at the home of Misses Margaret and Doris Michell on Thursday evening, December 13. At the close of the meeting the members worked on articles for the sale of work, after which tea was served by the hostesses.

The South Saanich Women's Institute will meet in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening, November 15, when plans will be discussed for the annual country "men's" and "women's" to be held with the Farmers' Institute in December.

Armistice and Thanksgiving service was held in the South Saanich United Church, on Sunday morning. Special music as rendered by the choir and address by Mr. Lee delivered a stirring address. The service next Sunday morning will take the form of a song service when many of the well-known hymns will be studied and sung.

The South Saanich Women's Institute entertained with the regular card party in Lee's Tavern, on Saturday evening, nine tables taking part in the game. First prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lawrie, Mrs. Buth-Sanderson, while second prize went to Mrs. H. Lawrie, Messrs. Ralph Michell and T. B. Oxley. Refreshments were served after the game by the hostesses, convened by Mrs. Warner.

The Ladies' Aid of the South Saanich United Church held its monthly meeting in the church parlor on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Patterson and Miss Alma Heyer were appointed to take charge of the home cooking sale, which the Aid held in the basement of the David Spencer's Limited store on Saturday afternoon. Further improvements to be made to the interior of the church this winter. Miss Violet McNally was appointed to make inquiries regarding some sewing for the bazaar. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Farmers' Institute will hold its November meeting in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening, November 15.

Under the auspices of the South Saanich Young People's Club, the young people of the Sidney United Church will present a three-act comedy in the Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening, November 21 at 8 o'clock. The play is entitled "Go Slow, Mary," and promises to be very entertaining.

Royal Oak

Mr. N. Musgrave arrived on Saturday from Vancouver and is the guest of Mrs. Campion, Wilkinson Road.

Mrs. Peubernet of Vancouver, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McHaffie, Wilkinson Road, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Home-Made, but Ends Bad Cough In a Hurry

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you can buy, at 2 times the cost. From any drugist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Put this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add plain granulated sugar or strained honey to make 16 ounces. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. It keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and carries away the inflammation. At the same time it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in obstinate bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

N.H.L. Teams Swinging into Action To-morrow

Ten Clubs Ready to Start What Promises To Be Record Season

Trading of Goalies and Complete Reorganization of Chicago Black Hawks and New York Americans Provide Chief Interest; Roy Worters May Be Sold to Americans; Rangers Open Season Against Cougars; Bruins, Rangers, Canadiens and Maroons Picked as Four Strongest Clubs

New York, Nov. 14.—The possibility that Roy Worters, crack Pittsburgh goalie, and the outstanding net-keeper of the National League will be sold to the New York Americans before or soon after the opening of the season to-morrow interested sport fans about the circuit to-day.

Worters, last of the holdouts on the Pittsburgh squad, not only has failed to sign a contract for this year but has broken off negotiations with the club. The Pirates have borrowed Joe Miller, the Americans' spare goalie, to fill the gap as the season gets under way. The loaning of Miller and the persistent efforts of the Americans to purchase Worters during the off-season seem to indicate that the deal is now near completion.

The switching about of goalies and the almost complete reorganization of the Chicago Black Hawks and Americans will furnish the chief interest of the ten teams in the United States and International groups of the circuit start the winter campaign. Chicago's rebuilt lineup tackles the Toronto Maple Leafs, with Lorne Chabot, former Ranger star in the goal, in the Canadian city Thursday night.

RANGERS MEET COUGARS

The world's champions, New York Rangers, who traded Chabot for John Ross Roach, second only to Worters in league ranking, open the campaign against the Cougars at Detroit, while Boston Bruins, winner of the American Group title last season, visit Pittsburgh, where former lightweight champion Benny Leonard is now encoined as club owner.

Two Montreal teams, the Maroons and Canadiens, clash at home, while the new American lineup tackles the veteran Ottawa team in the Canadian city.

EFFECT BATTLE

Looking to the most successful season since professional hockey invaded New York three years ago, experts believe the coming race will result in a battle of four strong teams for the championship now held by the Rangers. The Bruins and Rangers, considered the strongest squads in the American group, while the Canadiens and Maroons, pace-setters last season in the International Section, appear to be the strongest aspirants for the title play-off series.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—There is a firmly-rooted conviction among the fans of this city, carried over from the time before the players were paid, that Ottawa should be in the majority on the Ottawa hockey team. Ever since the National Hockey League was formed, the management of the local representatives in the big time circuit has encouraged that sentiment. Never before to such an extent as this season have the Senators been the product of the school rinks of Ottawa. Frank Nighbor, a citizen of Pembroke, Ontario, is the only outsider so far, although one other may be added later.

IS YOUNGEST TEAM

The present team also the youngest that has ever carried the red, white and blue colors in the N.H.L. schedule. Nighbor and George Boucher are the only veterans. Nighbor will be at center, with Frank Finnegan right wing and Hector Kilrea on the left. Boucher and Frank Clancy will be the regular defense with A. Connell in goal. Alex Smith will be the mainstay of the defense subs. The other subs are Len Grosvenor (center and left wing), Bill Touhey (center and left wing), who started with the Senators last year, and Jack Duggan and Fred Elliott (forwards). Allan Shields (defense), who started with the Senators last year, is a local fan favorite confident that several real stars will be developed from the youngsters.

Dave Gill will again be the coach and manager.

Doc Snell Wins Slugging Match From Spug Myers

Seattle, Nov. 14.—Doc Snell, Tacoma junior welterweight, was awarded a decision over Spug Myers, of Pocatello, Ida., after six rounds of slugging here last night. Snell weighed 136½, and Myers, 138½.

At Oratio, Spokane welter, won from Tiger Jensen of Denver, when the Scandinavian's seconds threw in the towel in the third round of their six-round match.

Jackie Gaston, Seattle, punched a four-round fall out of Vincent Hayes, Salt Lake City, 115 pounder.

Sarnia Battles Kitchener To-day

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Sarnia Imperials and the Kitchener-Waterloo Panthers fight it out at London this afternoon for the right to meet Varsity Orphans next Saturday for the championship of the O.R.F.U. This would be the third meeting of the teams this season and incidentally the rubber game.

Kitchener won the first game at home by 7-4 and Sarnia reversed the decision last Saturday on their own field, winning 5 to 3.

There was an old girl of the Tiber whom (sic) I fear was a hardened imbibor. For she walked on the pier. In a costume most queer. Made solely of coco-nut fibre.

IS BENEDICT

"MICKY" ION

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 14.—News was received here yesterday of the marriage at Portland, Ore., of Fred J. Ion, known to the sport-loving world as "Mickey" Ion, former referee in the N.H.L. and now with the Pacific Coast League. He married Minnie Nordhoff of Seattle, Wash.

FOUR GAMES ON CARD TO-NIGHT

Keen Competition Expected in City Basketball; College Girls Play Nuggets

Four good games are carded for basketball fans who want their way to the Centennial gymnasium to-night. The first game will bring together the Crescents and Centennial teams in an intermediate "A" fixture. This game has been substituted for the Hudson's Bay-Navy fixture, as the Navy boys are out of the city.

James Island and Foresters will meet in the second game. This should provide some good basketball, as both teams are going at top speed.

LADIES' GAME

In the ladies' section, the Nuggets and Victoria College will both be out for a win. Victoria College has been substituted for the Victoria College-Nuggets fixture, as the latter are out of the city.

The games are as follows: 7:00—Crescents vs. Centennial. Intermediate "A." 8:30—Nuggets vs. College. 9:25—Foresters vs. J.B.A.A.

McLarnin Will Meet Ray Miller

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—Ray Miller, Chicago lightweight boxer, has been signed to replace Tommy Grogan, of Omaha, as Jimmy McLarnin's opponent in a ten-round main bout here November 30. Promoter Dick Dunn announced to-day. Miller was signed following his two-round knockout of Lopen Tensiro, Filipino boxer, here last week.

RICKARD SAYS DEMPSEY CAN'T STAY INACTIVE

World's Leading Promoter Declares Jack Will Be Begging For Fight Soon

Former Titleholder Has Long Session With Tex; May Fight Next Summer

New York, Nov. 14.—Two wealthy business men sat down yesterday to discuss with the smoke of mild Havanas everything pertaining to the fight game except the chances of one of them, Jack Dempsey, returning to active competition. That was saved for this evening when the host, Tex Rickard, took the former heavyweight king to dinner.

The boss of Madison Square Garden, tanned to about half the complexion of his cigar, came back to his desk yesterday after a six weeks' vacation in Florida. His return was the signal for the prompt appearance of Dempsey and revival of all the rumors of a new comeback attempt to be staged by the old Manassa mauler next Summer. For more than two hours, Dempsey, in a most congenial and receptive mood, talked of fights and fighters with Rickard, and a host of newspapermen. He discussed the advantages of Florida as a winter training ground, analyzed the fighting qualities of Paolino Urundin and agreed the Spaniard would be an ideal opponent in the event of a comeback.

DEMPSEY RESTLESS

The former champion was careful to avoid mention of his oft-repeated statement that he was "through with the ring for good." He appeared, instead, anxious to find an outlet for the nervous energy that keeps him continually "on the go." When he had left the room, Rickard smiled and said: "A few months more and the big fellow will be begging for a fight. He just can't stay inactive."

While the business yesterday, on the surface at least, was to cement once again the friendly relations that have had much to do with the millions both promoter and boxer have made together, Rickard said the business of the dinner to-night. But, in accordance with the canny policy of getting the most of his publicity assets, he said there would be no definite announcement for "several days," at least.

The promoter said he had two courses open in the event that Dempsey decided to return to the ring. One would be the announcement that the old champion, twice the victim of the retired Gene Tunney, was ready and willing to fight the business of the winter elimination tournament in a title bout next Summer. His other plan would call for withholding of any announcement until the winner and loser of the tournament had been determined. Dempsey was determined in the elimination parade.

JACK IN SHAPE

Dempsey, in fine shape after a week of hard training in a local gymnasium, said he was only ten pounds overweight at the moment he is most interested, he said, in making a talking moving picture and selling what is left of the string of race horses he once owned.

Both the Maestro, Rickard, and Dempsey, the greatest ring attraction of all time, believe that the present situation in the heavyweight division is temporary and awaits only the appearance of an iron-fisted youngster to again make possible million-dollar rates and purses. Rickard believes that Jack still has the power to lure immense numbers of fight fans to the turnstiles. Dempsey smiles at that but was ready to demand at least $750,000 for his services once the promoter opened negotiations.

FIGHT NEXT SUMMER

The well-informed about the Garden believe that Dempsey will again do battle, probably next Summer, at one of the New York ball parks or in one of the large Canadian cities fairly close to the United States border. Jack is believed anxious to fight Urundin, a heavy puncher, who would bring the battle to him and save the wear and tear on the legs that crumpled in the famous seventh round, against Tunney in Chicago. Money in the proper quantities, they say, will bring the meeting about.

Another player who was lost to the Leafs through injuries a great part of last season, is Dr. "Bill" Carson, who came from the Rangers last Spring in a trade for Keeling. "Shorty" Horne, purchased from Stratford of the Canadian League. Joe Primeau, who is stepping up from the Toronto minor league team, and Andy Blair, star center of the Manitoba star city team which last year won the Allan Cup.

SHOULD STRENGTHEN TEAM

Blair, who is rated one of the best all-round athletes in the Canadian West, comes from Winnipeg with a brilliant hockey reputation. The Leaf management is confident he will materially strengthen the team, both offensively and defensively. Certain it is that Carson will have a hard time keeping Blair from capturing his regular center berth.

Taking no chances of injuries leaving them without a goalie, Leafs have secured Benny Grant, formerly of London Panthers and Owen Sound Greys to understudy Chabot.

NO SOCCER TO-DAY

As store employees did not have their usual Wednesday afternoon holiday to-day, no Wednesday League soccer fixtures were played.

Seeks Honors In Oregon Open

PHIL TAYLOR

popular professional at the Victoria Golf Club, who is in Portland to take part in the $5,000 Oregon State open championship which will be played over the links of the Waverley Country Club on November 15, 16 and 17. Phil is right on the top of his game at present. The winner of the tournament will receive $1,500 of the purse.

NEW PLAYERS SHOULD MAKE LEAFS STRONG

Toronto Club Will Present Much Rearranged Line-up Against Chicago

Andy Blair Expected to Greatly Strengthen Club; Bill Carson Back

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Strengthened by the addition of seven new players, four of whom already have proved their worth in professional ranks, the Toronto Maple Leafs will present a much-rearranged line-up when they clash with Chicago Black Hawks in the opening game of the National Hockey League season here to-morrow night.

Jimmy Herberts and Beatty Ramsay, veteran defense men, "Dutch" Keeling, right wing, and John Ross Roach, peerless goaltender, have gone, but in their places are players who are expected to transform the team into a really serious contender for the league championship.

Between the goalposts will be Lorne Chabot, formerly of New York Rangers, who was traded to Toronto with $12,500 for Roach. The deal was put through when Toronto officials refused to meet Roach's request for an increase in salary.

FILL THE GAP

To fill the gap in the Leafs' defense by the departure of Herberts and Ramsay, Jack Armour came from Detroit to work with Art Duncan, "Happy" Day and Art Smith. Day was put out of the game by injuries a month before last season ended, so that his return to the team will add strength, lacking last season.

OUTSIDE MAN WILL REFEREE SATURDAY BOUT

Jack Allen, Manager of Vic Foley, Insists on Neutral Third Man

Fighters to Weigh in at 4 o'Clock Saturday; Preliminaries Arranged

Final arrangements regarding Saturday night's big fistic display were arranged last night when Matchmaker Billy Davies, of the Victoria Boxing Club, and Managers Jack Allen and Joe Bayley got together on the long distance telephone and settled some important points which might have cropped up in the next few days to put in effect what looks like the choicest pugilistic tit-bit that has ever come to this city.

The matter which caused all parties a great deal of worry was in regard to officials. Allen positively refused to allow any local sportsmen to act as judge or referee, and insisted that the local commissioners select the officials from the United States. Joe Bayley requested that two local judges be used with an outsider as referee. But Allen would not agree to allow his fighter to compete under these conditions, so finally Bayley had to agree to allow the fight to be handled by referee only. It was then agreed that a list of well known United States sportsmen, including Nate Druxman, Biddy Bishop, Joe Waterman, Pete Muldoon, Danny Miller and Frank Purcell be furnished to Chief of Police, Fry and W. H. Mearns, who are acting in the role of boxing commissioners for the local club, so that they select the referee from this list.

WILL WEIGH IN

The next argument was the weight question. Allen insisted on weighing in at 130 pounds at 1 o'clock. Bayley stood out for ringside weighing in, but they finally came together and agreed to weigh in at 4 o'clock, under the supervision of the commissioners. Allen contends that the contest should be classed as an elimination bout for the Canadian junior lightweight title, and that the winners of the Roy-Townsend bout Friday night at Vancouver and the Foley-Pastore bout in Victoria be matched to decide the championship of this class which is now vacant. This bout could be staged either in Victoria or Vancouver. Allen promised to have Foley in Victoria to work out for the fans on Thursday and Friday evenings, so the club arranged to have both boys appear at their gymnasium in Victoria West both evenings.

PRELIMINARIES

Other local fighters to appear on the card were chosen last night, and they are Eddie Davies, Danny Pastore and Jumbo Davies, who will endeavor to hold their own against the strong opposition that Jack Allen can find for them.

Springfield And Kitchener Draw

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 14.—Springfield's Indians waged a 2-2 overtime tie with the Providence Reds in the opening game of the Canadian-American Hockey League season here last night. The contest was played before a crowd of 5,400 and was filled with action all the way.

Moose Jaw Star Signs With Lions

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—Gordon Teal of the Moose Jaw Club of the Prairie Hockey League, will play this season with the Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast League. Frank Patrick of the local club, announced the purchase of Teal yesterday. The prairie star worked out with the Lions yesterday afternoon. He was one of the leading scorers in the prairie loop last season.

IS WELL KNOWN

Campbell is one of the best known racing officials in the country, having served at Laurel and Pimlico, Maryland tracks, and at New Orleans in the winter. He resigned at New Orleans to come to Victoria and become racing secretary and associate steward.

Three new patrol judges have been appointed, all of whom have excellent racing relations as officials in the turf world. They are Francis Dunne of Kentucky, George Snow of New York and Canada and William Howard of California. These three men will be stationed at strategic points on the course to observe the races.

George W. Schilling has been made placing judge. Schilling is senior steward on the western circuit of the Canadian Racing Association in the Summer and has officiated at Tia Juana every winter. He will be assisted by J. S. Rothen. Rothen will also be clerk of the course.

With this brilliant cast of racing officials and the class of horses and stable hands in any previous year, onlookers predict the greatest season in Tia Juana's history. The $130,000 Cofferthorpe Handicap and other rich stakes will feature the long meeting. Stable accommodations for more than 1,500 horses have been reserved, and special trains are pouring into the track loaded with equine bluebloods from Tanforan, Chicago, Kentucky, New York and Maryland.

Joe Marcus Wins From Fernandez

Portland, Nov. 14.—Joe Marcus, Portland lightweight, scored a ten-round decision over Bobby Fernandez, Los Angeles boxer, here last night. Marcus had a slight shade over the little Mexican who was outweighed seven pounds.

SUCCESS OF DERBY FEATURES PLAY IN ENGLISH FOOTBALL

By PENALTY KICK

Derby County's meritorious win at Birmingham over Aston Villa a week ago, for which congratulations were then unstintingly given, was followed up on Saturday by another success over Leicester City. Encouraged by the plaudits of their home supporters the team emphasized their superiority over their Leicester neighbors in truly convincing manner. Seven goals were scored and Derby claimed five of them.

What Derby set out to do they have succeeded in accomplishing, for it is not mere goal average which now entitles them to such an elevated and exalted position as leaders of the English League.

FOR RAINY DAY

BABE RUTH

New York, Nov. 14.—Babe Ruth's famous trust fund has grown by another $10,000.

The big sockman of the New York Yankees came to town yesterday, visited his bank and deposited enough cash to increase his trust fund to $130,000. The Babe started the fund after his disastrous season of 1925, arranging the investment so that he could not touch the principal. The fund now assures the Babe a yearly income of $10,000 or thereabouts. Practically all of the principal has come from what Ruth terms "commercial by-products," such as barnstorming trips, vaudeville, the movies and advertising.

OFFICIALS FOR TIA JUANA NAMED

Greatest Season in History of Mexican Track Forecasted; Starts Nov. 29

Tia Juana, Mexico, Nov. 14.—Officials for the 100 or more day racing meeting opening here Thanksgiving Day, November 29, have been announced by James Wood Coffroth, president of the Tia Juana Jockey Club. Many new faces are in the official family, which presents one of the greatest arrays of racing talent and high standing ever assembled in America.

Francis Nelson, senior steward for the Canadian Racing Association, will act as senior steward. Lee J. Rose, John B. Campbell and Marshall Cassidy will comprise the board of stewards. For the first time in the history of the American turf a starter has been named a steward. Cassidy has been named a steward. Cassidy has been named a steward. Cassidy has been named a steward.

Joe Marcus Wins From Fernandez

Portland, Nov. 14.—Joe Marcus, Portland lightweight, scored a ten-round decision over Bobby Fernandez, Los Angeles boxer, here last night. Marcus had a slight shade over the little Mexican who was outweighed seven pounds.

SOLID DEFENCE

Their defence has only been penetrated seventeen times, but Sheffield Wednesday and their rivals have quashed opponents early with them the honor of scoring 115 goals equally between them. The quality of Derby's defence is further emphasized by the fact that Leicester's three previous appearances boosted their credit goals by fourteen but the latter's sharpshooters could only get two at Derby.

Blackburn's inability to trounce the lowly Bury allows Derby County to enjoy a double lead over them, and Bury, although they obtained a goal and a point from the Rovers, could not get out of the cellar. Both Sheffield United and Cardiff City hold a three-point advantage over Bury, who have now lost nine games. Woolwich Arsenal's unexpected win over Sheffield United puts the latter above the former in the table.

DUAL INFERIORITY

Bolton Wanderers' determination to recover some lost laurels without further waste of time rewarded their supporters with a four-to-one win over the historical Leeds United which put them above Manchester City, who accompanied Leeds into superior company this season. Both of them slumped on Saturday, Leeds at Bolton and City at home.

Huddersfield's attack triumphed over the Burnley defence to the tune of 7-1 goals before the former's supporters. Newcastle's trip to Manchester produced four valuable points for them, of which they are in sore need just now. Only two visiting teams failed to score, but Portsmouth allowed Liverpool to take away both points with the only goal scored.

CHELSEA'S CLIMB

In the Second Division Notts County could only get a point from the lowly Clapton Orient, while Bradford City's 5-1 victory over Hull City places the latter in third place. Chelsea improved their position before their home supporters at Fratton Park, where they now enjoy second place by superior goal average over Hull City.

Bristol City entertained Oldham, over whom only goal average previously predominated, with a complete whitewash and Reading took even a severe licking at Blackpool. It is a tight race for the cellar "honor" between Reading and Oldham, the former holding the record of 10 goals against them. Home teams scored more than three times as many goals as visiting ones. Only one visiting team won—Wolverhampton Wanderers before a West Bromwich visit.

LUCKY WREXHAM

Northampton's six goals was the most meritorious performance in the Third Division of the Southern Section, against which Torquay could only score one. Sutton's win by the odd score of three obtained by Crystal Palace was next in order of merit, while Coventry followed closely behind with a 4-1 win over Swindon. Luton now has a two-point lead over Plymouth Argyle, the latter's visit to Norwich producing three goals.

Wrexham, who was a most encouraging performance. The League's leaders—Wrexham—beat the sharpshooters of Bradford City by the odd score of three. Although the second, third and fourth teams were all beaten, Bradford City, one of them, advances to second place by goal average. Wrexham now enjoys a three-point advantage. Barrow, the cellar occupants, trounced Hartlepool, thereby lifting themselves out of an unenviable position.

PROLIFIC SCORING

Scotland was the country for goals on Saturday. First Division clubs scored 56 while 51 were scored in the Second Division. Alone in their glory remain Glasgow Rangers, for they went to Falkirk and scored four goals. In one game four goals were recorded, a visiting team, Ayr United, netting the ball eight times, while the home team, Partick, could only obtain four. Eleven goals were registered at Kilmarnock, the home team claiming seven of them. Raith Rovers, although they beat Airdrieonians, still have 21 teams ahead them.

TRAVELERS WEAKNESS

Home superiority was no more fully emphasized than in the Second Division of the Scottish League, for 40 goals were credited to them, but only 11 to visitors. Dundee's 8-0 defeat of Stenhousemuir was the outstanding performance of the day, while Alloa, Arbroath and Clydebank, all playing at home, scored 15 goals equally between them. The united efforts of the visitors produced five goals.

HAPPY DERBY

It will be interesting to note whether the demoted league leaders and present cup-holders can reproduce past form by their visit to Birmingham next Saturday, for they are scheduled to meet Aston Villa, who triumphed over Sunderland by three goals, to one at Sunderland last week. This Derby County will travel to Manchester and should be able to give the United a boost, but in the wrong direction. Cardiff City will receive Huddersfield and Leeds United should be able to keep ahead of Sheffield Wednesday while performing before their home supporters, if only by the goal average they now possess.

KEEN SOCCER GAMES LOOKED FOR SATURDAY

First Division Clubs to Meet in League Games; Wests Top League By One Point

Greenhirts Will Meet Esquimalt; Cup Presented For Most Useful Player

Teams in the First Division will be engaged in league games on Saturday. The six clubs will be in action and with the keen pace that is being waged for the league leadership the matches are expected to be close. Saturday's card follows: Victoria Wests vs. Esquimalt, at Royal Athletic Park. Victoria City vs. Westholmes, at Central Park. Saanich Thistles vs. Five C's, at Seaton Hill. With only one point separating the Wests and City from first and second place in the league averages both clubs need a win in the worst way.

ROBINSON BACK
The greenhirts will be strengthened by the return of Scotty Robinson, the inside right, who has been serving a two weeks' suspension. After their victory last week over the Thistles, the City should have no trouble disposing of the Westholmes, who, as yet, have failed to win a game. Fresh from springing their upset last week when they knocked the Wests out of the Million Cup series, the Wests will seek the scalp of the Thistles. Officials of the First Division have decided to present a cup to the man who is selected as the most useful player to his team in the First Division. A committee of three has been appointed and at the end of the season will select the most valuable player.

The winner will receive a beautiful cup presented by the Victoria and District Football League.

The committee is composed of M. P. Coultas, secretary of the league; L. M. Salloway, sports editor of The Times, and S. Thomas, member of the Colonist.

SUCCESS OF DERBY FEATURES PLAY IN ENGLISH FOOTBALL
Bury may surprise Woolwich Arsenal this week as they did Blackburn Rovers last week. Leicester City will entertain Sunderland and Burnley will endeavor to regain at Manchester City's expense what they lost last week at Huddersfield. West Ham will receive Bournemouth, and should at least hold what she has.

LONDON FAVORED
Millwall may be able to stop Chelsea's progress, for this meeting will provide popular London entertainment on the former's ground. Tottenham Hotspur are to try conclusions with Nottingham Forest, while Bradford will travel to Southampton. Another interesting meeting will be Swansea's journey to Wolverhampton, as both teams won their games last week with clean-cut victories.

RANGERS ENTERTAIN
Glasgow Rangers will lose their unbeaten record, perhaps unexpectedly, soon, but Hamilton may not be able to boast that honor on Saturday. Hearts, their closest neighbors, will pay St. Mirren a visit, but predictions favor the travelers. Raith Rovers surprised soccer enthusiasts last week and may do so again on Saturday when they visit Hibernians.

SUCCESSFUL DUNDEE
The Scottish Second Division should provide Dundee United, who now enjoy a four-point lead over Arbroath, with another brace of points when they visit Arthurlie on Saturday. Both the leaders of the Scottish League and the Third Division of the Southern Section have 23 points. Dundee, however, have 25.

Bowling Marathon Is Latest

Marathons of almost every description have been promoted since the ancient Greeks popularized the long grind, but it remains for 1928 to hook up the long distance travelogue with bowling.

Joseph V. Murray of Elton, N.Y., has signed up Joe Falconero of New York City and Sid Sherman of Toledo, O., for the "Cross Country Marathan Bowling Classic," due to start soon.

These two outstanding bowling stars, credited with being among the five best pin splitters in the United States, have signed contracts calling for a minimum of eighty matches, to be rolled in nineteen states. Murray, the promoter, is guaranteeing the two alley aces a million of about $10,000 to split between them for their work. It is figure sets a new high mark in the financial doings of bowling.

Falconero represents the east, Sherman the west, in this unusual arrangement. Dwyer's alleys in New York City will be the scene of the ending of the bowling marathon, as Dwyers' already have arranged to have the final four matches rolled there.

Sherman has a record of sixty-six perfect, or 300-game scores to his credit. He has won many tournaments and matches, and is considered exceptionally good in two-man play.

Falconero holds what is believed to be the world's record of 892 in three games of tournament play.

The two men will bowl in the larger cities in Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey.

WITH THE PUCK

One of the reasons why Toronto fans are so enthusiastic over the Maple Leafs this season is the showing of Art Duncan, rugged defense man, who has secured leave of absence from his employers, the Solloway-Mills Company, for the winter to play with the Leafs. Art, who is a native of Saint Ste. Marie, where he attended the Collegiate Institute, and after service with the Imperial Bank in the Soo, took Horace Greely's advice and went West, but returned to Toronto to enlist in the 228th Overseas Battalion. Later he was transferred to the R.F.C. became a captain and was awarded a Military Cross with Bar.

Returning to Canada, Captain Duncan again went West, where he played for several seasons with Frank Patrick's Vancouver team in the old Pacific Coast Hockey League and in the Western Hockey League. Although a defense player, Art won the high scoring honors of the P.C.H.L. one season.

When there came a break in professional hockey out West, Duncan again headed eastward and was for a time manager of the Detroit Cougars. Last year he played with considerable distinction for the Toronto club in the N.H.L.

"Patsy" Callaghan, farmed to the Springfield Indians by the New York Rangers, has been elected captain, while "Buddy" Maracle, the full-blooded Indian on the team, is second. Callaghan showed up well as a defense man for the Rangers the last of the season, and undoubtedly would be with the team again this season were it not for the drawing card that Myles Lane may become as an American and a college graduate.

Manager Ross of the Boston Bruins is just about ready to cut his squad of hockey candidates, practice in the Province rink, having progressed to the point where he has a pretty definite line upon his material. Chances the fact that only a couple more of the boys will be loaned to the Canadian-American League, Harrington already having been loaned to the Providence club; Lander and young Dave Gordon are the others whose chances of sticking are questionable.

Eugene Carrigan, a former Edmonton amateur, is making a great name for himself at Springfield, the training camp of the New York Rangers.

Carrigan, who was the leading scorer in the California Hockey League last winter, has been working out with Springfield against the Rangers. He has made a favorable impression. In fact, his work has been so good he may be taken over by Lester Patrick for the Rangers.

Tony Barti, former Winnipeg star, is reported to have made a good impression upon Manager Cecil Hart of the Canadiens in his first workout.

Montreal Maroons have loaned Fred Brown, a youngster who once strutted his stuff in Kingston amateur ranks, to the Kitchener club in the Can-Pro League.

Youth, speed and an open passing game, which the Toronto Millionaires to the championship of the Canadian Professional Hockey League. Holmes will have no grey-hatched, old-time masters of the game in his squad when they face Hamilton Tigers in their first game November 20. The Kitchener team of last season forms the nucleus of the Millionaires' outfit this winter. Oke sold his Kitchener franchise to other interests there and bought the Toronto Paley grey-hatched, bringing most of his Kitchener players of 1927-28 to Toronto. The Toronto

Falcon players were sold to other teams.

Cully Wilson, veteran star of professional hockey for the last ten years, and right wing with the St. Paul A.H.A. team last season, has been named coach and playing manager of the 1928 Saints to succeed Jimmy Balle.

Uplands Ladies Play To-morrow

Lady members of the Uplands Golf Club will play to-morrow in a tournament round. The draw follows: Mrs. Jackson vs. Mrs. Darcus Hodder. Mrs. Rust vs. Mrs. Darcus Hodder. Mrs. Sanders vs. Mrs. Tanner. Mrs. Nickson vs. Mrs. Macfarlane. Mrs. Sample vs. Mrs. S. C. Elliott. Mrs. Dane vs. Mrs. Hargreaves. Mrs. P. B. Elliott vs. Mrs. Turnbull. Miss Bone vs. Mrs. Spencer. Mrs. Macdonald vs. Mrs. Freeman. Mrs. Combe vs. Mrs. J. A. Cameron. Mrs. Prescott vs. Miss Grant.

Play Final For Lansdowne Cup

In the finals of the Lansdowne Cup competition at the Uplands Golf Club, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Sanders will meet. The former defeated Mrs. Cecil Ewe three and one in the semi-finals, while Mrs. Sanders accounted for Miss Wolfenden three and two. The finals will be played on Friday.

JAPAN EMPEROR GIVES THANKS

Kyoto, Japan, Nov. 14.—The Dajjo, Shogun, "Gaijin" Thanksgiving, always celebrated following the formal enthronement of an emperor of Japan, began as dusk fell on Kyoto to-day. Through the night, the newly enthroned Hirohito, as the 14th ruler in the line of the Heavenly Sun Dynasty, will be engaged in observance of the most solemn of the primeval racial religion of Japan, Shintoism, acting as the high priest of the nation, communing with the gods who are believed to have given the empire birth. The enthronement ritual is borrowed from Chinese and other foreign countries, but in the Dajjo Shogun is preserved intact, without alien contamination, the Japanese of two thousand years ago, a primitive community in which the first institutions of kingship and priesthood were taking form, using in the person of a ruler priest who was also considered divine.

None but Japanese participate in or witness any part of this awe-inspiring ceremony, and indeed none but the Emperor himself is a witness of its most solemn moments in the dead of the chill November night. Alone, unseen, unheard, he offers to the gods of his people the first fruits of the first untainted harvest of his reign and intercedes with them for the future of the land and the prosperity of the nation. This is the first "untainted" harvest, for last year's was sown and reaped in the year in which the nation was still mourning for the late Emperor Talaho.

BY-LAW PASSES FINAL READING

The final reading of the Tax Sale Lands and Exchange By-law was passed by the Esquimalt Council at its meeting last night and arrangements for the transfer of land to the Esquimalt Playing Fields were made. During the meeting a communication requesting a trail to be made from Colville Road to Mr. Allen's property was read and approved. Another letter asking the council to remove the guns from the Memorial Park on the ground that they were a source of sorrow to many parents who had lost sons in the war, was received and filed.

New Start On Nations' Navy Negotiations Now Needed, States Baldwin

British Premier Tells House of Commons French-British Pact Proposals Dead; During Discussion of Liberal Amendment Lloyd George Points to Dangers

London, Nov. 14.—The Armistice Day speech of President Coolidge was the background for a sharp debate last night in the House of Commons with Premier Stanley Baldwin and Ex-Premier David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, firing the heavy guns. The discussion was precipitated when the war-time Premier moved an official Liberal amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. In this amendment the Liberals invited the House of Commons to declare the Anglo-French naval accord endangered the prospects of peace in Europe and good relations with the United States.

After the discussion the Commons rejected the amendment by 328 to 163.

PROPOSALS SCRAPPED
Defending the Government's course, Mr. Baldwin candidly described the British-French compromise as scrapped. He said it was "an honest, straightforward attempt to escape from the deadlock which had developed at Geneva and was threatening the cause of disarmament."

ARMY RESERVES
In his criticism of the Baldwin foreign policy, Mr. Lloyd George asked the Commons to express official regret that the accord with France had abandoned the principle of limiting small submarines and other naval vessels. He also asked the House to vote that the exclusion of reservists from the computation of military strength, a point which had been urged by France and which was conceded by Great Britain in the accord, was contrary to the spirit of the Versailles and Locarno treaties.

He drew the Government's attention in relentless detail to the dangers of the policy represented in the Anglo-French compromise. He declared it was dead, but in reality the corpse was the policy which had dictated the accord.

U.S. CRUISER POLICY
The Liberal spokesman argued that the speech of President Coolidge was the background for a sharp debate last night in the House of Commons with Premier Stanley Baldwin and Ex-Premier David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, firing the heavy guns. The discussion was precipitated when the war-time Premier moved an official Liberal amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. In this amendment the Liberals invited the House of Commons to declare the Anglo-French naval accord endangered the prospects of peace in Europe and good relations with the United States.

After the discussion the Commons rejected the amendment by 328 to 163.

very difficult to get mutual understanding."

NO MYSTERY
"There was no mystery at any time about the pact," said the Premier. "It was not published because the conversations were only tentative. They could only be final when they had been considered, approved and embodied in an agreement by the five powers. When one was still hoping the conversations might show progress, the very worst thing for the conversations was publicity. We might have been wrong in our hopes and expectations, but it would have been lunacy to make any more publications."

The House was given a direct intimation that the compromise was dead when the Premier called attention to the fact that he had used the past tense in referring to it.

METHOD OF PERSUASION
The Premier said France and all conscript countries had remained firm on the question of military reserves. "It was perfectly clear no progress should be made until they had given way," he said. "We had to persuade those nations to make concessions. The only way we could hope to progress was by persuasion and therefore the House should try to realize the viewpoint of those who were opposed to us."

This might prevent statements which might make the attitude of those countries stiffer than it was, the Premier went on.

The Premier remarked that France regarded conscription as an essential part of democracy and universal service in France was advocated by all parties.

GIVEN ENCOURAGEMENT
It had often been said that those who had entered into discussion on the compromise must know they were courting failure. He did not see why, the Premier said. They were encouraged by observations from the American representative. During the discussion Great Britain and France agreed to facilitate settlement and bring down the Washington agreement from two class limitations to further limitation in the hope that in this way it might lead to universal limitation of armaments.

The Premier said he could not see that it was unreasonable that those who had done this would feel other countries would be willing to accept what had been done and in their turn make some concessions. That view was wrong. No concessions were being made and there was no prospect of carrying the matter any further. The whole work had gone for nothing. It would be necessary to begin all over again.

SMITH DELIVERS HIS VALEDICTORY
Defeated Candidate For U.S. Presidency Again Declares Loyalty to Democratic Party

Standing before a microphone in a National Broadcasting studio, the defeated Democratic Presidential candidate delivered what many had called his political valedictory.

SUPPORT FOR HOOVER
His speech, broadcast over a national wide hookup of stations, urged united support of Herbert Hoover, although he did not mention him by name, asserting the man selected by the people last Tuesday to lead the country as "President of the United States."

"It would not do," said Governor Smith, "to let bitterness, rancor or indignation over the result blind us to the outstanding fact that we are Americans."

Referring to the thousands of letters he had received since the election and since he had announced he would not again be a candidate for public office, the Governor said he had been asked "to lose interest" in the Democratic Party.

He said he did not regard the defeat of his party as interfering with the soundness of the principles for which it stood and that with all the vigor he could command he would continue not only to stand for those principles, but to "battle for them." He added a pledge of increasing interest in and devotion to them.

The Governor called the Democratic Party "the great liberal party of the nation."

ENDS LECTURE
TOUR IN CITY

Rev. Dr. F. W. Boreham, Melbourne, Sails To-day on Niagara

Completing a lecture tour which has taken him around the world, Rev. Dr. F. W. Boreham, one of the leading Baptist ministers of Melbourne, Australia, last night addressed a large audience in the Metropolitan Church.

Dr. Boreham, who delivered his 230th lecture last night, to-day will embark on the R.M.S. Niagara, bound for his home after his four months' tour.

Taking for the subject of his "sermonic" lecture "Crumbing Stones," Dr. Boreham spoke of the symbolism for which the many things of life stand.

"We never see anything by looking at it but by looking through it," was the central theme of the address, the speaker pointing out that as one looks through a telescope, one forgets it and sees only the object at the other end. A girl, reading a letter from her lover, sees not the bare writing upon the page, but right through it to the heart of her lover, he said.

So with the Bible, the church, social life or politics, it was not the exact manner of these things which we should look at but the objects which they symbolize, he said.

Dr. Boreham spoke of the warm welcome he had received during his journey through Canada, and expressed great pleasure at having had this country included in his itinerary.

Thousands of women who are now nervous, sickly, weak and dependent, might just as well be strong and happy, with Bright Eyes, Bony Cheeks, abundant vitality and nerve force—if they knew the amazing value of Double Strength Tablets.

Not a "cure all" gland treatment or dangerous habit-forming stimulant, but a positive nerve food and vitalizing tonic, recommended and highly recommended by leaders of the medical profession. And as a prompt and certain help to womanhood, the value of Double Strength Tablets is estimated. A few days' use will quickly convince you of that! So don't give hope and let yourself sink into the blackened depths of despair—but let Double Strength Tablets show you the way to a brighter, happier, more useful life! At all Druggists on a binding guarantee of full satisfaction or money back. Try it today!

First grain for the Victoria elevator was in sight to-day with notification of the local offices of the Canadian National Railways that five cars of wheat had left Port Mann by barge this morning and would arrive here late to-night. The grain will be unloaded at the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal elevator to-morrow morning. It was stated. The grain was shipped from Saskatchewan, but other particulars of the shipment could not be ascertained. The arrival of the car barge to-night.

TO TEST ELEVATOR

The grain is awaited at the elevator for the making of the first test run of the hoisting machinery and other equipment. The test will be conducted by the operating officials of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal Limited, the city's consultant engineers, and apart from an invitation to members of the City Council, will be held in private. The testing will take about a week to complete. It is understood, as the grain will be put through every operation which occurs in the terminal elevator business.

If the tests are satisfactory the elevator will be handed over to the company by the contractors, Smith Bros. and Wilson, mainland contractors, in charge of the work.

The elevator was erected at a cost in the neighborhood of $650,000, and is now completely equipped. The city has guaranteed the bonds of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal Limited to the extent of principal and interest on $500,000 of the issue.

STAFF IS READY

The operating staff has been on the scene at Ogden Point for some weeks now, ready to take over. The staff is headed by James Burden, superintendent of the elevator, which, with the foreman, Bruce Staples, assistant foreman, George Johnston, weighman, and A. H. Farley, electrician. A full operating crew for the elevator will consist of about twenty-five men. It is stated.

After spending twenty-two years in the Argentine, J. Tisdall of Buenos Ayres has developed such a liking for Victoria and Vancouver Island that he is now planning to settle here.

Mr. Tisdall, who is staying at the Empress Hotel, stated this morning that he proposed to return to Victoria to make his home as soon as he could complete his business plans. He has been ranching in the Argentine and has also been engaged in business in Buenos Ayres.

Alfred Bull, well-known lawyer of Vancouver, who lost the Totem Pole Golf Tournament at Jasper Park in September to a local youth, Monty Hill, is in Victoria with his family over the week-end, being registered at the Empress Hotel. He played with Captain Jukes over the Colwood course.

Edward Aust, manager of the circulation department of The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, arrived in the city by the 1.30 o'clock boat from the Sound City yesterday afternoon, accompanied by a score of his staff and their wives.

It was indicated, however, that the Cubans will use the Premier's visit as a tail wind in the belief that he cannot continue the programme he has followed since he took office. Ministers feel that Dr. Tolmie should reduce his outside engagements, and have been a serious added strain in addition to his governmental duties.

Dr. MacLean and D. B. Plunkett Plan Visits to Industrial Plants

Hon. J. D. MacLean, Liberal Candidate in the Federal by-election now being fought in the riding of Esquimalt, will be in Victoria this week to address the employees of the chief industrial plants at noon-hour meetings. It was announced to-day.

D. B. Plunkett, Conservative candidate, is already making the rounds in company with Leonard Tait and other local leaders. He expects to visit the Paint plant yesterday at noon and at the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber mill to-day. At both places he urged higher tariffs on imports and export duties on unmanufactured materials.

TO INTERVIEW GOVERNMENT ON MILL BAY FERRY

To press the case for a change in the terminal of the Mill Bay ferry to a location near Village Point a delegation consisting of members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the Saanich Board of Trade and the Malahat Board of Trade will to-morrow meet members of the Government.

There has been considerable discussion on the matter by committees from these groups and the advantages of having the ferry terminal shifted from its present site have been stressed. The members of the delegation, which will interview the Government are: Victoria Chamber, Reeve W. Crouch, David Learning, R. W. McMillen, M. W. Graham, Capt. G. B. Williams, H. C. Holmes, and Alfred Carmichael; Saanich Board of Trade, Rev. S. Montague Bruce, president, and W. O. Wallace; Malahat Board of Trade, G. A. Cheke, president, and Lieut.-Col. P. T. Oldham.

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 14.—Forty-one persons were reported killed and about 150 injured by a violent cyclone which last night wrecked Villa Maria, a city of 20,000 people, 200 miles from here, and swept across the surrounding country. Destruction of means of communication made it difficult to obtain details. The casualties are expected to reach much higher total when a further search of the wreckage of the town and restoration of communications with the countryside have been made. A relief train carrying physicians and nurses is on its way to Villa Maria.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS ARE DRAWING CLOSE

With two weeks' holiday rapidly approaching, over 5,000 children in city schools are marking the passage of days on home calendars now in anticipation of the Christmas season. The schools will close on December 21 and will open again on January 8. It was stated at the office of the City School Board to-day. The board will meet to-night to consider a routine agenda.

PORT RENFREW HOTEL BURNS

Citizens Make Vain Attempt to Save Structure in Night Fire

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)

Port Renfrew, Nov. 14.—Despite a determined fight by a group of citizens who formed a bucket brigade in an attempt to quell the flames, the Port Renfrew Hotel was burned to the ground last night in a spectacular blaze.

The alarm was given by the Chinese cook at the hotel about 8 o'clock, when the flames had gained considerable hold on the building. The proprietor and his wife were in their store, some thirty yards from the hotel, and were called by the cook.

HELPLESS AGAINST FLAMES

A number of persons in the vicinity and several fishermen from boats lying in the harbor joined in the fight against the flames, forming a bucket brigade from the water's edge. Their efforts to save the hotel were unavailing, however, and finally they were forced to concentrate upon the store, which was saved, with its contents, by a north wind directing the flames away from it.

It is thought the fire started in the kitchen. The flames could be seen from Clousope, twenty-six miles from here, it was reported.

ESQUIMALT W.I. TO HOLD COURSE

At their meeting held last evening in the Parish Hall the members of the Esquimalt Women's Institute decided to start the proposed course in physical culture and dancing on Monday, November 19, at 7.30 p.m. in the Parish Hall. These classes will be open to all women and to girls over twelve years of age. An interesting course is promised which will be of great benefit to health and deportment, as well as providing recreation. All those desiring to join are requested to register on Monday and so derive the full benefit of the classes. Further particulars may be obtained from the secretary, Mrs. Johnston, telephone 548111.

Mrs. Appleby's report on child welfare gave details of two meetings of the Esquimalt Child Hygiene Council. On October 18 Mrs. Booth had given advice on the care of the feet of special importance to growing girls. On November 1, Mrs. Nicol had described a trip to California.

At the next meeting, to be held on Thursday, November 15, Dr. Murray Thompson will be the speaker.

Mrs. Cave reported for the ways and means committee. Two card parties given during the month had met with success, and another will be held on Thursday evening, November 15.

Mrs. Charles Brown gave a very interesting account of her experiences during a four-month sojourn on the West Coast. Her description of the methods of manufacturing oil and fish meal at fish reduction plants gave an insight into the opportunities on this island from the by-products of the fish industry.

The housewives at the social hour were Mesdames Sadder, Findley, Hansen and Cave.

PLAN TO START "BIG BROTHER" MOVEMENT HERE

Committee to Formulate Scheme for Adoption of Australian System

Boys Brought Out From Britain Win Notable Success, Visitor Reports

Preliminary steps to introduce the "Big Brother" movement into Canada, and thus to promote the immigration of British boys to this country under the scheme which has proved an outstanding success in Australia, were taken at a representative meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium to-day. After hearing from Capt. R. T. Thornton of the operations of this immigration programme in Australia, the meetings asked the Chamber of Commerce to name a committee to promote the "Big Brother" movement here, provided it is approved by the Federal Government.

The success of the Big Brother movement in advancing emigration of boys to Australian farms has been outstanding in the three years since its inception. Capt. Thornton assured the gathering over which James H. Beatty, M.P.P., presided.

Capt. Thornton stated that steps to extend to Canadian farms the Big Brother system of boy migration had been initiated at the suggestion of the Prince of Wales, patron of the movement.

Great care is taken in the allotment of boys to Big Brothers, with attention to similarity of ideals and religion between the lads and the business men assigned to their care. Capt. Thornton said.

FEW FAILURES

Supervision of the individual boy extends from his migration at fifteen years of age until he is twenty-one years old. There is no responsibility upon the Big Brothers to assure employment for his boy, and of the 1,500 boys sent to Australia, failures have been less than four per cent. When the lad is not happy with his employer he has the Big Brother to appeal to for aid, Capt. Thornton explained.

STRICT SELECTION

Selection of boys is the chief cause of the success attained, all being picked to accord with certain type. All are clean, bright, enthusiastic, but chosen from all classes, he said.

The boys have already made a name for themselves, districts clamoring for "Big Brothers." The success is greatly due to the enthusiasm of the Big Brothers for their undertaking.

Most of the public bodies of Australia are taking up the work, Masonic lodges, returned soldier bodies, Rotary clubs and similar groups being enthusiastic, he stated.

The movement is voluntary, donations and subscriptions providing the necessary funds. "This auxiliary system is considered essential to avoid government interference."

RECALLS BARNARD MOVEMENT

Mr. Beatty recalled that the Barnard Boys' movement to Canada, of the last twenty years, had supplied this country with a great many men now retired after successful careers as farmers and business men.

Capt. Thornton said many British parents had stated that they would not allow their lads to emigrate except for the supervision of the Big Brother movement.

Very little propaganda is carried on in Britain and successful boys are proud of passing the stringent tests.

Capt. Thornton explained that Australian cities are growing too large, and the Big Brother movement is only interested in lads placed on farms, of the last twenty years, had supplied this country with a great many men now retired after successful careers as farmers and business men.

The movement was initiated by an Australian, well-known pioneer of Victoria, who was extremely well-known in Nanaimo, having lived here for the last forty-five years. Formerly he operated a grocery store.

He is married by two daughters, Mrs. George Armstrong of California and Mrs. L. Wilkinson of Vancouver; three brothers, Stephen of Vancouver, James of Hornby Island and George of Seattle, and two sisters, Mrs. T. Wilcox of Vancouver and Mrs. S. Gartley of Vancouver.

It was thought that the deceased, who was seventy-six years of age, had died four days ago. There will be an autopsy and inquest to-day.

OBITUARY

There passed away Monday evening at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Mary Sanderson, widow of the late Daniel Sanderson. Mrs. Sanderson was a native of Preston, England, aged seventy years, and a resident of this city and the Sooke district for the last twenty-three years. She is survived by two sons, Robert Sanderson of Duncan and Joseph Sanderson of Sooke, also five daughters, Mrs. D. C. Stewart of Calgary, Mrs. Arden, Mrs. E. Godel, Mrs. Restall and Miss Emily Sanderson, all of Victoria. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Knox Presbyterian Church, Sooke. Rev. Samuel Lundie, B.A., will conduct the service, and the remains will be laid to rest in the family plot in Sooke Cemetery. Floral tributes left at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, up to 11 o'clock Thursday morning will be taken out.

STOCK MARKET FINANCIAL NEWS GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—Wheat: The Canadian Government issue Tuesday afternoon, estimating the wheat crop of western Canada at 479,948,000 bushels, being a reduction of about 47,000,000 bushels from their September estimate, was generally construed as bullish by most of the trade, and line elevators in particular, the latter being in close contact with conditions in the West, the report was taken largely as a joke, the general opinion being that the figures were much too small. It was pointed out that the Government had done the same thing last year, and the final outcome of the crop had proved estimate had been over 50,000,000 bushels too low.

The report stimulated buying of an investment character through commission houses, while there was considerable buying that was credited to accounts of Americans. The local market, opened about 3 1/2 higher and gradually advanced until prices were 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 over last night's close. The full bulge was not held as offerings became more liberal, and farmers were reported as selling their cash wheat freely, while at the same time some were taking back the May option.

Coarse grains: These markets were again dull with very little of feature going on. Consumptive demand from a domestic standpoint was slow, while no export business could be treated. Offerings were small.

Flax: This market was dull and draggy, no interest being shown.

THE GIRL A LOT

ANNE AUSTIN "AUTHOR OF 'SAINT AND SINNER'"

CHAPTER I

"Good morning, children," Mrs. Stone, the head matron of the asylum, answered severely—but automatically. Some never spoke except severely, unless it happened that a trustee or a visitor was accompanying her.

"As punishment for playing at your work you will spend an hour of your Saturday afternoon playtime in the weaving room. And Betsey, if I find you weaving all snarled up like it was last Saturday I'll lock you in the dark room without any supper at all. You're a great big girl, nearly six and a half years old, and you have to learn to work to earn your board and keep. As for you, golden girl, I'm surprised at you. You've been in the asylum for sixteen years and still acting like a child and getting the younger children into trouble. Aren't you ashamed of yourself, Sally Ford?"

"Yes, Mrs. Stone," Sally answered, her face that of a little old woman again; but her hands trembled as she gathered up the sheet which for a magic ten minutes had been an emerald robe.

"Now, Sally," continued the matron, moving down the long line of iron cots and inspecting them with a sharp eye, "don't let this happen again. I depend on you big girls to help me discipline the little ones. And the way, Sally, is to be a new little girl. She just came this morning, and I'm having Miss Pond send her up to you. You have an empty bed in this dormitory. I believe."

"Yes, Mrs. Stone," Sally nodded. "Christine's bed." There was nothing in her voice to indicate that she had never known more than any child she had ever had charge of.

"I suppose this new child will be snarled up soon," Mrs. Stone continued, her severe voice striving to be pleasant and conversational, for she was fond of Sally, in her own way. "She has yellow curls, though I suspect her mother, who has just died, used peroxide on it. But still it's yellow and it's curly, and we have at least a hundred applications on file for little girls with golden curly hair."

"Thelma," she whispered severely upon the eight-year-old child, "what's this in your bed?" Her broad, heavy palm, sweeping expertly down the sheet-covered iron cot, had encountered something, a piece of broken blue bottle.

"It is mine," Thelma quivered, her tongue sticking out to catch the first salty tear. "I traded my broken doll for it. I look through it and it makes everything look pretty and blue." She explained desperately, in the instant while Thelma's "Oh, please let me keep it, Mrs. Stone."

But the matron had tossed the bit of blue glass through the nearest window. "You'd better get yourself on it, Thelma," she justified herself in her stern voice. "I'll see if I can find another doll for you in the next box of presents that come in. Now, don't try like a baby. You're a great big girl. It was just a piece of broken blue bottle. Well, Sally, you take charge of the new little girl. Make her feel at home. Give her a bath with the insect soap, and make a bundle of her clothes and take them down to Miss Pond."

She lifted her long, starched skirt as she stepped over one of the scrubber's puddles of water, then moved majestically through the door. Clara, the nine-year-old orphan, stuck out her tongue as the white skirt swished through the door, then turned upon Sally, her little face sharp and ugly with hatred.

"Mean old thing!" Always butting in! Can't let us have no fun at all! Some other kid'll find Thelma's sapphire and keep it off her—

"It isn't a sapphire," Sally said dully, her brush beginning to describe new semi-circles on the pine floor. "It's like she said—just a piece of broken blue bottle. And she said she'd try to find you a doll, Thelma."

"You said it was a sapphire, Sally. You said it was worth millions of dollars. It was a sapphire, long as you said it was, Sally!" Thelma sobbed, as grieved for the loss of illusion as for the loss of her treasure.

"I reckon I'm plumb foolish to go on playing all the time," said Sally Ford dully.

THE TINKLES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

While Clowdy stayed far out of sight, the Tinkles waited for the night to come so they could look around for ways of getting free. They rather liked the ocean trip, but thought it best to leave the ship. They knew the captain often was as cross as he could be. Soon Clowdy lost his trace of foot, and cried, "The sun is going down. It won't be long until the moon is high up in the sky. Then we can try to get away. Poor Clowdy doesn't like to stay away down in the coal pile. I've a plan that we might try."

"Upon this big boat there are two small rowboats. One will surely do if we can only lower it into the sea below. Then, under cover of the night, we'll row until we're out of sight. As long as we escape from here, what matters to us?"

"A fine idea!" Clowdy said. "It's real dark now. Let's go and bring poor Clowdy up on deck. The captain's gone to bed. Our plans should work. It seems to me we're as cautious as can be. Of course, we'll have to hide if Mr. Captain shows his head."

Soon Clowdy joined the little bunch. They told him of their happy hour, and he seemed to be in the craft. They rather loved it. "The boat we're going to take is here. I doubt if there's a thing to fear, so let's just drop it to the sea. This time for us to go."

Their plans worked out in first-class form. They found the night was nice and warm. It wasn't long till all the Tinkles were in the craft. They Clowdy softly said, "Oh, gee! This sure will make the captain mad." The Tinkles all laughed.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Red Hen

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Do you remember the time the Fuzzy Fox wanted to nibble Uncle Wiggily and Jack Frost from the Bad Chap to the ground by the water on his tail? And do you remember how, after that, the Bob Cat chased the rabbit and Mr. Longears dropped a bottle of soda-water and made a slippery slide?

Yes, well, do you remember how, sliding on the frozen soda-water, Uncle Wiggily reached his hollow stump bungalow safely and how the Bob Cat water froze and made a slippery slide?

Uncle Wiggily slid so fast on the soda-water slide that he couldn't stop himself and almost bang her bunsko he went right up against the front door.

"Goodness me! What's that?" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Some one trying to break in, I fear," said Mrs. Longears.

"Oh, it's Uncle Wiggily," shouted Baby Bunty, looking out of a side window. "And he's sitting down on the steps!"

to begin all over again. So, waiting until the children were very quiet Uncle Wiggily said:

"Once upon a time there was a little Red Hen. And this time no one asked any questions, so the bunny rabbit gentleman went on with the story to the very end. But there is no need of me telling you that story, for you know it."

Anyhow, all of a sudden, next day, when Uncle Wiggily was hopping along the road, out of the bushes ran the little Red Hen.

"Caw! Caw! Ka dah!" clucked the little Red Hen. "I hear you have been telling stories about me, Uncle Wiggily, and she fluffed out her feathers and puffed herself out and looked very angry."

"Why, I only told a Bedtime Story about you," said the bunny uncle.

"Well, you mustn't talk about me," clucked the Hen. "Besides, I'm not really red at all."

"Aren't you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, rubbing his eyes, for he saw the red color on the Hen as plainly as you can see an automobile.

"Yes, I am really red, I'm black," clucked the Hen. "This red is only a suit of red flannel I wear over my feathers so I don't catch cold. If you tell any more stories about me, say 'once upon a time there was a little Black Hen.' Then it will be right."

"But how can I say you're black when I see you're red?" asked the bunny rabbit. "I must tell stories the way they are."

"Look here!" cawed the little Red Hen. "If you don't do what I say, I shall have to scratch you and flip you with my wings!" With that she began to run toward the bunny.

"Oh, please don't scratch me!" he begged.

"Yes, I shall!" cawed the little Red Hen. But she really didn't, and why she didn't I'll tell you in the next story, which will be about Uncle Wiggily and the ding doing cricket. And if you can keep the trolley car from running over to the drug store to take the ice cream cone away from the tooth brush it will be a jolly good thing."

CATHEDRAL ORGAN

Will Be Fine One

Will Have Few Superior Instruments on Entire Coast; To Remodel Old One

"After thorough renovation and modern additions, it will be one of the finest organs on the Pacific Coast," was the comment of an expert organ-builder, who is in the city, yesterday, when speaking of plans to rebuild and enlarge the present Cathedral organ for use in the new building.

A brief announcement that an anonymous donor had undertaken the cost of removing, rebuilding and enlarging the organ was made by the Very Rev. Dean Quinlan at Sunday morning's service in Christ Church Cathedral.

SEEK INFORMATION

The dean also stated that, as the time for the consecration of the new cathedral had been fixed for next September or October, the furnishing committee desired to know as soon as possible of the wishes of others who were considering the presentation of memorial or thank-offering gifts, in order that the necessary steps to secure designs and make other plans for the work might be put in hand immediately.

Besides the organ, gifts of the stone-work and stained glass in windows of the aisles and west-front have been announced, also articles of furniture needed for the sanctuary, choir, nave, porches and vestries in the new building. A list of all requirements, with full details of approximate costs, may be obtained from the cathedral officials or at the Memorial Hall, 912 Vancouver Street.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES—A Close Call

—By MARTIN

HEY! WHAT'RE YOU DOING? AROUND HERE FOR? WHY AREN'T YOU OUT FOR FOOTBALL PRACTICE?

NOW, WEANNESS—I JUST CRAVED A SIGHT OF YOU AND FOOLIN'.

WELL, TH COACH IS SMART TO YOU ROMEO'S HANGIN' AROUND TH' AIRPORT—HE'S AROUND HERE SOMEWHERE NOW, LOOKIN' FOR YOU.

YEAH, GEE, QUEEN—TAKE ME, QUICK! IF HE CATCHES ME OUT HERE—MY NAME IS MUD.

Oh, please don't scratch me! he begged.

For I forgot to tell you that Uncle Wiggily slid along on the frozen soda-water sitting down and of course he slid up on his bungalow porch steps in the same way.

"Whatever is the matter, Wiggy?" asked his wife, opening the door.

"Nothing is the matter now," said her husband. "But there might have been if the Bob Cat had caught me. But no matter! Is supper ready?"

"We are all ready to sit down—just waiting for you," squeaked Nurse Jane. "After supper, all the forty thirteen or fourteen bunny rabbit boys and girls gathered around their Daddies and begged."

"Please tell us a Bedtime Story," said the bunny.

"Oh, all right," said Uncle Wiggily. So he began:

"Once upon a time there was a little Red Hen."

"Was she any relation to Charlie and Arabella Chick?" asked Baby Bunty, while Jingle asked: "Could she lay eggs?"

"Now look here," said Mr. Longears. "If you keep on asking questions, I can't tell the story. I shall have to start over."

He waited until the children were quiet and then he said:

"Once upon a time there was a little Red Hen."

"You told us that part, Daddies," said Bunty.

"My dear," said his father, "you must not interrupt. Now I shall have

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1928

Friendly stars guide Earth affairs to-day, according to astrology, which finds that benefic aspects dominate.

This is a day auspicious for efforts to improve one's financial status, a time to make plans for advance in salaries or for promotion of any sort.

It is an auspicious time, which to make applications for political preferment, those who take office are supposed to be more helpful than they are, likely to be when other configurations rule.

Women are marvelously well directed while this planetary government continues, and should make the most of shopping opportunities.

Wearing apparel bought to-day should be usually handsome as well as serviceable, for the stars encourage artistic selection.

Theaters should prosper under this planetary direction which makes for success in experiments along artistic lines as well as in commercial ventures.

Actors and actresses should benefit at this time when the spoken word gains power in motion picture theatres as well as in other play-producing centres.

According to ancient lore this is a lucky day for the smiling woman "in way line of work." It is most promising for modistes, since there is to be insistent demand for individuality in dress.

As the pendulum of taste swings back to feminine ideals in attire and conduct women are to gain in beauty to an extent that will add new fame to Americans.

Household conditions are to improve for men. The poorest, it is forecast, but the winter will bring extraordinary cases of suffering, if the stars are rightly interpreted.

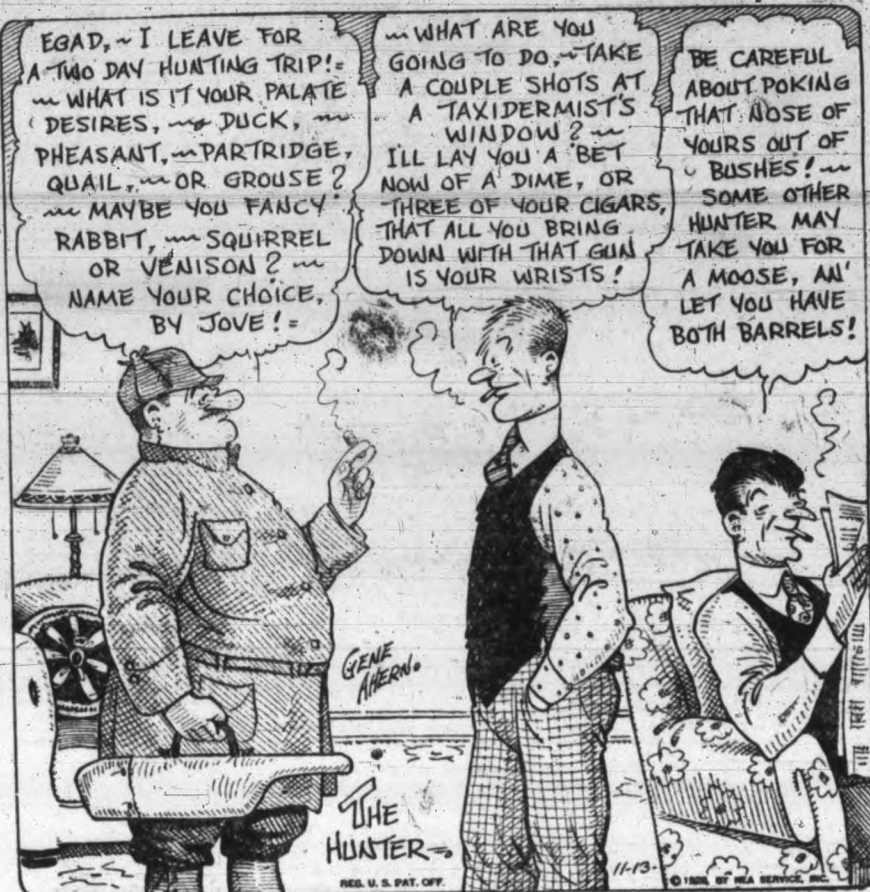

Alaska is to command national attention before the Spring, astrologers announce.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of marvellous happiness. Love will come to the young and spiritual vision to the old, it is foretold.

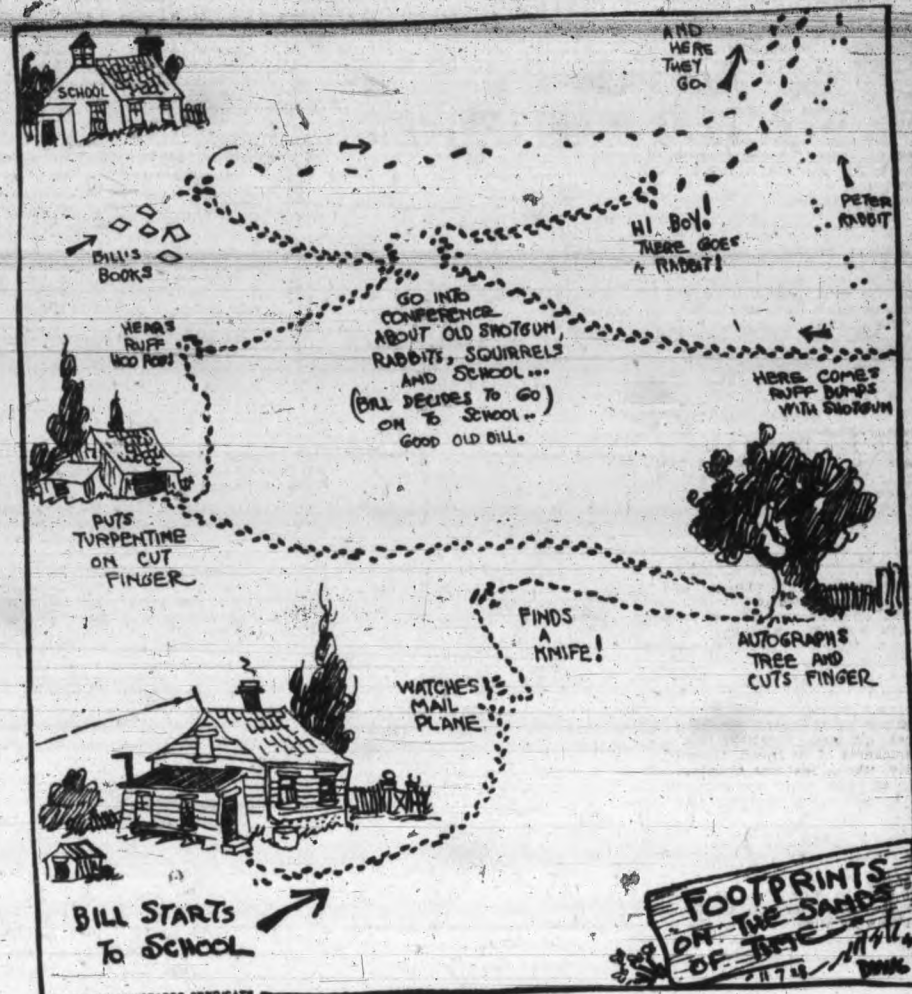

Children born on this day probably will show great artistic talents. Many dreams are born under this sign of Scorpio which also is supposed to encourage poetry and art.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, follow the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bismarck Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarck Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrector, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

"GREENWICH MEAN TIME" TERM HAS BEEN PASSED UP

Dr. J. S. Plaskett Tells Local Astronomical Society of Leyden Meeting

The proceedings of the International Astronomical Union meeting at Leyden, Holland, were reviewed last night by Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, in an address before the Victoria branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, held at Victoria College with over 100 men and women in attendance. Prof. Pearce, Ph.D., occupied the chair.

Dr. Plaskett explained that the work of the Union chiefly consisted of arranging standards for and ratification of work carried out by special committees. The sessions at Leyden reviewed the progress made with defining the boundaries of the constellations, a work of great difficulty which Dr. Plaskett believed to be in process of solution.

TIME BASE CHANGED

The difference between civil and astronomical time was also debated. From January 1, 1925, all astronomical time had been calculated from noon instead of from midnight, as had previously been practiced, remarked the speaker. The change was of importance to mariners, as Greenwich mean time "base" had been changed from noon, and the Leyden meeting decided in favor of abandonment hereafter of the well-known term "Greenwich mean time."

Discussion of sun spots and solar eclipses had featured the Leyden proceedings, and the committee on solar physics was enlarged and made more important than ever.

WIRELESS SLOW

A special committee reported to the Union that wireless signals were estimated to travel 25 per cent slower than light, but Dr. Plaskett expressed personal disagreement with this hypothesis.

The distance from the earth of 4,000 stars had been accurately determined, and an important committee reported progress in the enormous task of investigating the greatest group of variable stars, continued Dr. Plaskett. Warm controversy developed during the early proceedings of this committee, with views advanced by delegates from Mount Wilson, Cal., and Harvard University.

EX-ENEMIES WELCOMED

The proceedings at Leyden were marked by the presence of German and Russian scientists for the first time since 1913, the newcomers being accorded warm greetings by most of the delegates.

Dr. Plaskett also reviewed the social program incident to the proceedings of the Union.

ECLIPSE OF MOON

Capt. Hughes explained the total eclipse of the moon which will occur around midnight of November 27. The eclipse will last from 10:25 p.m. until 3:38 the following morning, being total for two hours.

R. O. Redmond explained the theories regarding the planet Jupiter, located at nearly the closest point to the earth which it can attain.

GROWING STRENGTH

President Pearce stated the Victoria branch of the Royal Astronomical Society now had ninety-six members, compared with sixty-four members two years ago. Numerous members of the Toronto branch, resident in Western Canada, had recently transferred to Victoria, he said.

BOYS' PARLIAMENT TO OPEN SHORTLY

Dec. 1 Date Set For Election; Conditions For Candidacy Announced

The conditions governing candidacy for the coming election of the Tuxis Older Boys' Parliament of British Columbia, to be held on December 1, have been issued and the announcement has been made that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will act as patron. The sessions will be held in the Parliament Buildings.

Candidates for the Parliament shall: (1) Have attained their sixteenth birthday by January 1 of the Winter in which the Parliament is to be held. (2) Be a member or mentor of a Tuxis or Trail Ranger group registered and recognized by November 1 preceding the date of the holding of the Parliament.

(3) Be not addicted to the use of tobacco, liquor or drugs in any form, and certified by the mentor or clerkman as a boy of high moral character. (4) Be willing to pool railway fare with the other members of Parliament.

(5) Be willing to correspond with or visit all groups in his constituency after the close of the session to make a full report on legislation passed during the session. (6) That candidates for Parliament must be reasonably sure that the following year after Parliament they will be free from hindrances in their work, such as too heavy a school course or pressure of business duties.

Establishment of a municipal dock for seaplane traffic here was emphatically urged by Sidney Pickles, local aviator, in an address before the Knights of the Round Table last night. A dock of this nature was now doubly needed owing to the decision of the B.C. Airways to place its flying boats in the gulf service, he said.

Development of a first-class airport at Victoria would regain for the city its position as the most important Pacific port of Canada, said Mr. Pickles, urging rapid progress in aviation here.

AIRMAIL ROUTES

Mr. Pickles centred his talk around the statement "transportation is the medium along which civilization advances." He pointed out that the first step in a transcontinental airmail service had been taken by establishment of a Toronto-Montreal route. Commercial planes, carrying freight and passengers would follow this, he asserted, divisional terminal airports would be required, and Victoria should prepare itself for the location of the western terminal airport of the Dominion by making a start on the development of an adequate site.

In this connection, Mr. Pickles instanced the action of the Vancouver Council in voting $7,000 for conditioning the airport there.

Such an airport would need hangars, repair shops, spare engines, spare planes and possibly post office equipment. Pilots, mechanics, radio operators, customs and immigration officers, aircraft supply jobbers and others would be needed at the airport, he said.

Several lantern slides of lighter-than-air machines and of aeroplane types, showing the development in aviation, were displayed by Mr. Pickles.

TOMATO GROWERS ELECT OFFICERS

F. B. Dempster Named Head at Annual Meeting; Minister Speaks

T. B. Dempster was last night elected president of the Capital City Hothouse Growers Association with F. A. Cockerman as vice-president, at the annual meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers elected were: Secretary, T. J. Skelton; treasurer, B. Pankin; directors, J. Hutchinson, George Joe, Lin Bahr, auditors, J. B. Steele and A. J. Osborne; brokers, Oppenheimer and Fraser, Wood Limited.

Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, was the speaker. The cure for last year's tomato situation, said Mr. Atkinson, was the enforcement of the "Dumping Act," which provides for at least five cents per pound dumpage on tomatoes. Strict enforcement of this act was essential, he said, as well as co-operation.

GETS GASOLINE FROM COAL SHALE

Cheapest Method of Obtaining Fuel, Says Colorado Man

The cheapest method of obtaining gasoline exists in the extracting of it from coal shale, according to M. R. Kraul, of Denver, Colorado, who explained his method to the Minister of Mines, Hon. W. McKenzie, and to mining men yesterday.

At the meeting at the Empress Hotel yesterday Mr. Kraul showed moving pictures of the process, and of the immense shale deposits in Colorado that were available for this purpose. With the rapid increase in automobiles it was necessary that some new source of fuel be developed, he said. Improvements were still to be perfected in the process, he said, to retain the more volatile parts of the product.

AT THE THEATRES

WILLIAM HAINES HAS LEAD AT THE DOMINION THEATRE

"Excess Baggage" and "The Count" are a lot of extra luggage that you carry with you and pay for but never get a chance to use.

Thus the star defined his idea of the meaning of his new starring picture of that name, and showed for the last time to-day at the Dominion Theatre.

As all theatrical people have heavy luggage, they naturally often paid extra fare for the transportation of their belongings. Hence their familiarity with the term.

So Haines in the beginning of the picture is thought by his wife, Josephine Dunn, to believe her to be "Excess Baggage." Later on after she has won success on the screen, he has the same idea when he believes that he is so much "Excess Baggage" as far as her career is concerned.

James Cruze directed the screen production while the cast includes Ricardo Cortez, Kathleen Clifford, Greta Granstedt, Neely Edwards and others.

CURWOOD AUTHOR OF STORY AT THE COLUMBIA THEATRE

James Oliver Curwood has more than repeated his success in "Back to God's Country," and has given the lovers of the cinema art perhaps the greatest animal and human interest story in the world in the latest Art Brand Productions feature, "Nomads of the North," which is now being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

The picture certainly beggars description—the remarkable performance of a bear and a dog, acting more human than brute, and the realistic forest fire constituting two high spots which one could never forget. Another outstanding feature of the production is the quite unusual photography, many of the scenes being undoubtedly the zenith of pictorial perfection.

"LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN" FEATURE AT PLAYHOUSE HERE

Even a motion picture star must wait patiently for her dreams to come true. Irene Rich, now playing Mrs. Erylne in "Lady Windermere's Fan," the Ernst Lubitsch production, for the first time at the Playhouse Theatre, waited eight years to see a favorite dream fulfilled.

When she began her screen career as an extra eight years ago, she determined that some day she would take a trip to Europe and place her two daughters, Jane and Frances, in two different schools in Switzerland. It took hard work, but the gracious charm and genuine talent that has distinguished her acting helped Miss Rich make her dream come true, and upon the completion of this film version of the Oscar Wilde play, her hope was realized.

Others in the cast of "Lady Windermere's Fan" are Ronald Colman, by arrangement with Samuel Goldwyn, May McAvoy, Bert Lytell, Ward Martindale, Henry Dunbar, Carrie Daumery and Billie Bennett.

SPLENDID DOUBLE BILL SHOWING AT CAPITOL THEATRE

The stage and picture attractions at the Capitol Theatre for to-day include Lillian Gish in her latest screen success, "The Wind," a Victor Seastrom production with Lars Hanson, a roaring screen comedy entitled "The Wind," and the Louisville Trio, a very clever trio of colored harmony singers, Harold Bechtel, the singing master of ceremonies, in his farewell week of presentation.

Al Prescott and his stage band will be heard playing a special Armistice overture specially arranged by Mr. Prescott, Betty Anderson, the ever-popular soloist, in song selections, and the Deasleys Sisters, two fine singers and dancers in a dandy novelty presentation.

CLEVER COMEDY AT THE COLISEUM WITH LEE JAXON PLAYERS

With one of the cleverest comedies which they have presented since coming to Victoria, the Lee Jaxon Players are appearing at this week at the Coliseum Theatre in a play entitled "A Bachelor's Thanksgiving."

There is none of the horse play with which many modern slapstick comedies are spoiled in this week's stage presentation and for an hour lively scenes which bring forth peals of laughter from the audience are enacted by one of the cleverest little stock companies ever seen in Victoria.

Woven around the suspicious presence of several women in a bachelor apartment, the current stage attraction provides plenty of exciting moments as one woman after another tries to get out of the apartment and does her best to explain how she got in. Tracey McDermott, the youngest member of the company, is especially entertaining this week as the negro porter. With his typical dark sayings and manner he is a great favorite and one of the most popular members of the cast. Besides the usual members of the company Miss Bobby Stevens, a Victoria girl, is also appearing this week. Others in the cast are Miss Dorothy Raymond, Miss Billie Hearn, Lee Jaxon, Jack Holt and Howard Van Alstyne. Several good musical numbers are given by the various members of the company and by special request Lee Jaxon sings "Memories."

On the screen this week is a double bill, Carl Dane and George K. Arthur in "Baby Made," and Charlie Chaplin in "The Count."

This splendid triple bill of stage and screen attractions will show every evening this week with a matinee on Saturday afternoon.

ENGLISH COMPANY HERE NEXT WEEK

Star of Martin Harvey's Plays Will Appear at the Royal

Familiar to Victoria theatre-goers for several seasons as the brilliant young leading man for Sir John Martin-Harvey, Gordon McLeod will come to the Royal for the week ending November 19 with his first theatrical venture as at the head of his own picked English company.

He offers two vastly different successes of the English stage—for the first half of the week, the costume comedy made famous by Lewis Waller, "Miss Elizabeth's Prisoner" and for the last three days, "A Bill of Divorcement," in which he himself starred in England for sixty-two consecutive weeks.

How Gordon McLeod was pitchedforked into stardom is one of the most dramatic episodes of London and Canadian stages.

Shortly after Sir John Martin-Harvey opened Sabatini's "Scaramouche" at the Garrick in London, he fell ill and many thought it would be necessary to close the play. But Sir John, remembering his own phenomenal rise, asked a young member of the cast to step into the breach and, to his forty-eight hours' preparation, Gordon McLeod came forward to fill the famous actor-knight's shoes.

His success was instantaneous as the London press of the next day proved. He was hailed, on the basis of his first performance, as a new stage celebrity who would have to be ranked with the great romantic stars.

Arriving in Canada with Sir John last season, only a few months after his London triumph, history repeated itself for Mr. McLeod. Again, Sir John was forced to withdraw from the company. Again Gordon McLeod stepped in as the star of "Scaramouche" and from Toronto to the coast, scored a series of personal successes which has fallen to no young actor in the Dominion during a decade.

But even that has been eclipsed by the reception accorded him this week. When "Miss Elizabeth's Prisoner" had its Canadian premiere in Montreal, the action of the play was interrupted five times by applause for Mr. McLeod, received an ovation in Toronto, Winnipeg and mid-western cities.

His engagement in Victoria will not be less than a triumph.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday.

"And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou?" (Genesis III. 9) was one of the Scriptural texts contained in the lesson-sermon.

Following the reading of the Bible texts, passages were also read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one being the following from page 307: "Above error's awful din, blackness and gloom, the voice of Truth still calls: 'Adam, where art thou? Consciousness, where art thou? Art thou dwelling in the belief that mind is in matter, and that evil is mind, or art thou in the living faith that there is and can be but one God, and keeping His commandment?'"

"Until the lesson is learned that God is the only Mind governing man, mortal belief will be afraid as it was in the beginning, and will hide from the demand, 'Where art thou?'"
